

Boys' Track

The 1986 Boys' Track team began this track season as a group of relatively young and inexperienced athletes. Keeping that idea in mind, the team set out to set some realistic goals for themselves. As a whole, the team expected to become a competitive team. In the end, they could see that they had become what they originally wanted to grow into. The team gave a solid performance in the EML and earned the respect of other coaches by being voted into the top ten. Overall it was an exciting season. The team obviously worked very hard to achieve the success that they did.
