the Student

One thing which sets Sycamore apart from the rest is its fine academic reputation. The environment is favorable for studying and learning; a student can't help but to get involved in the creative thought going on within the walls of Sycamore High School.

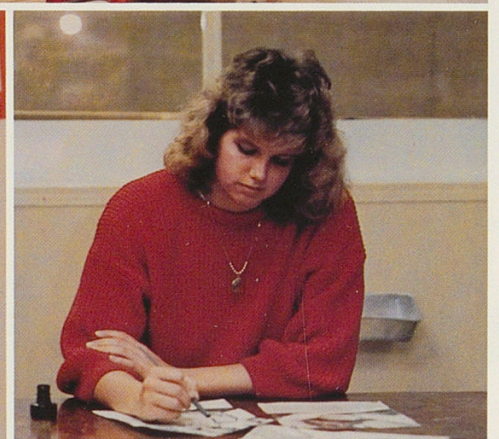

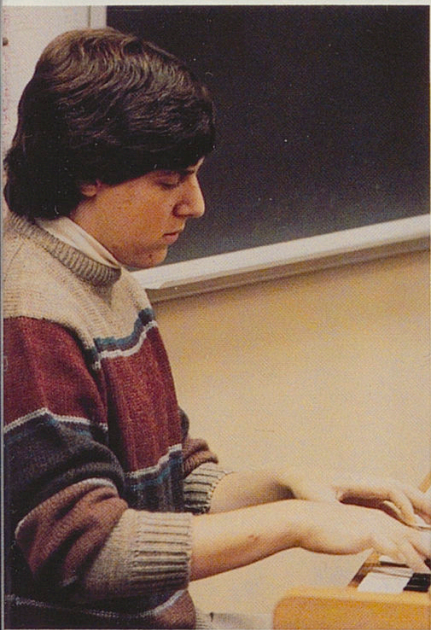

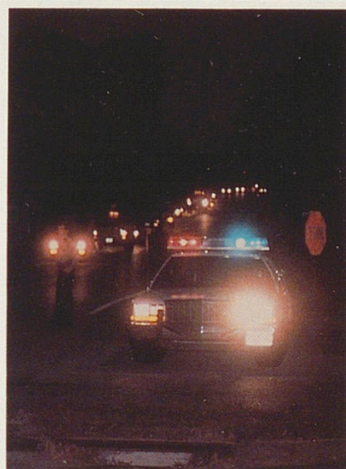

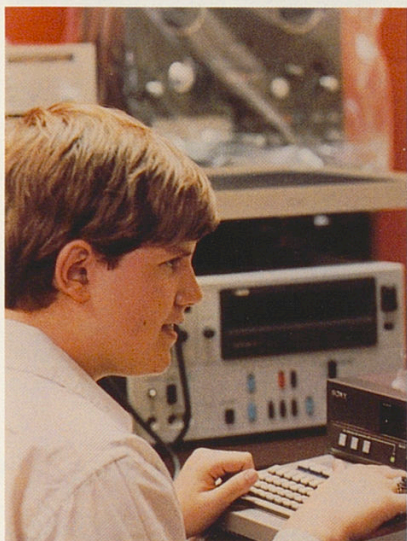

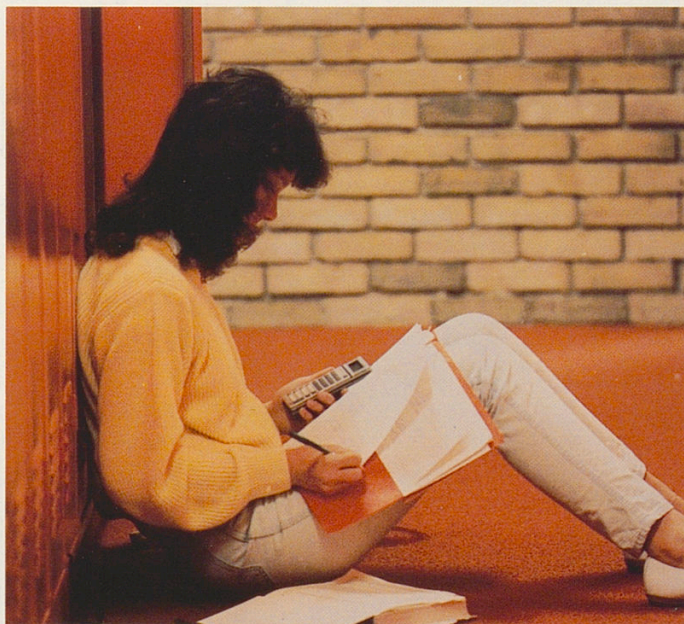

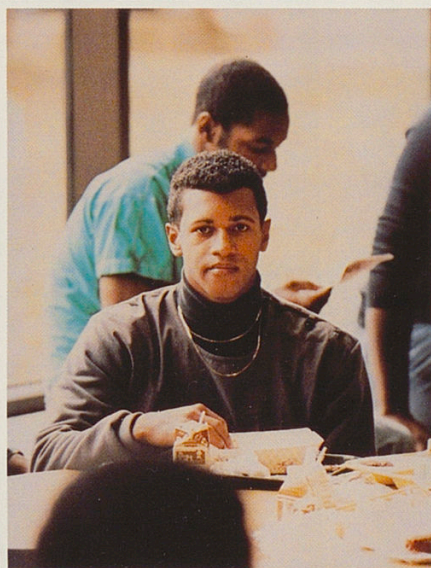

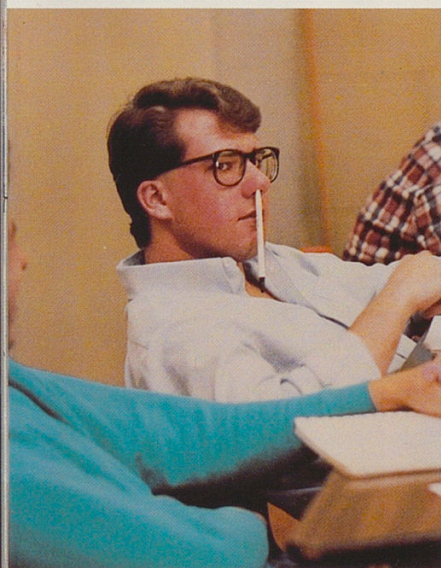

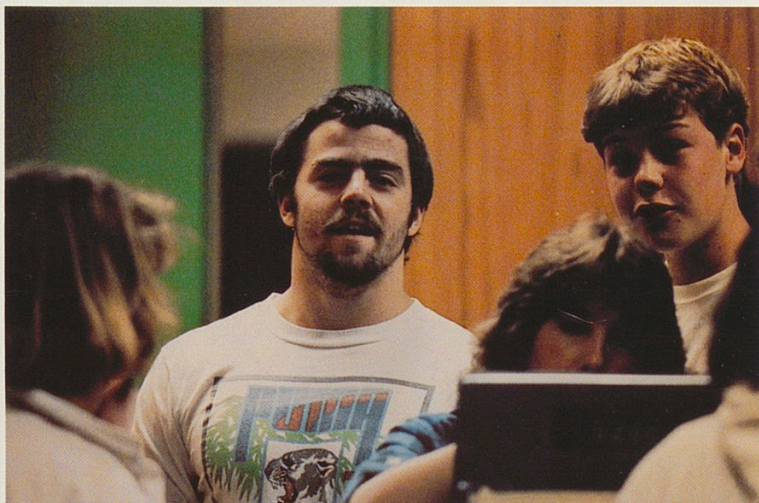

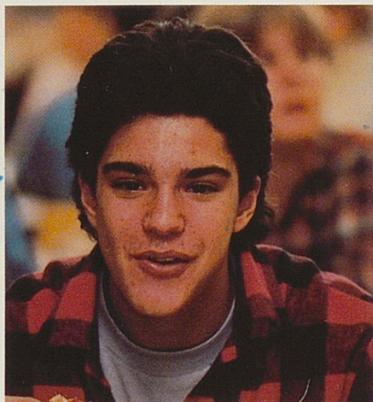

The Artist

Whether he is the aspiring painter, photographer, musician or actor, the Sycamore student receives good training at this school. Everywhere one may look, he can see the effects of the artist and his or her work in Sycamore, be it in the artwork and photographs displayed for everyone or on the stage performing.

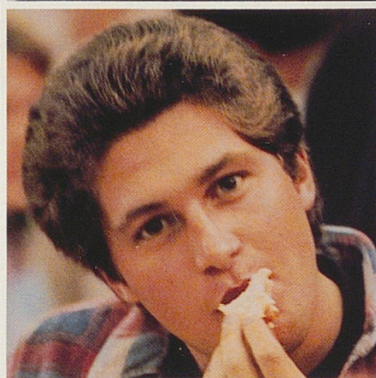

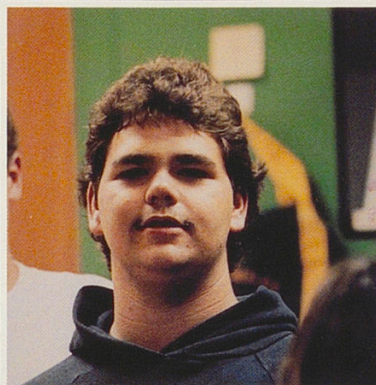

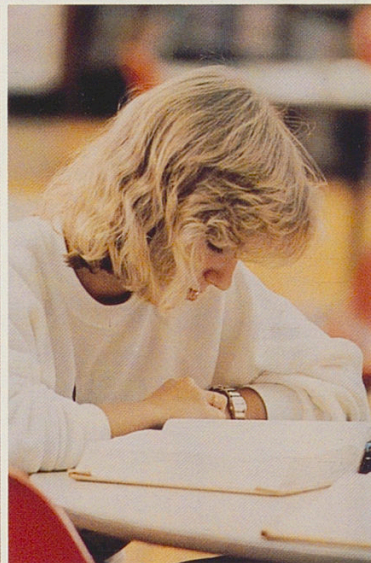

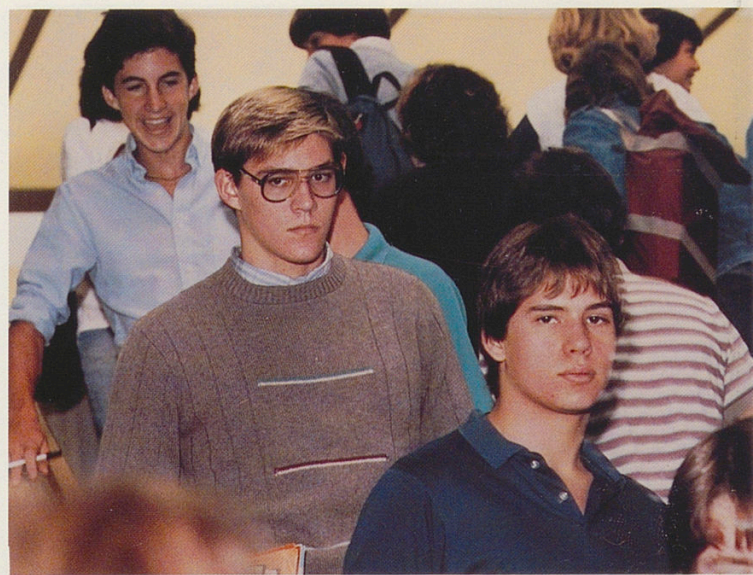

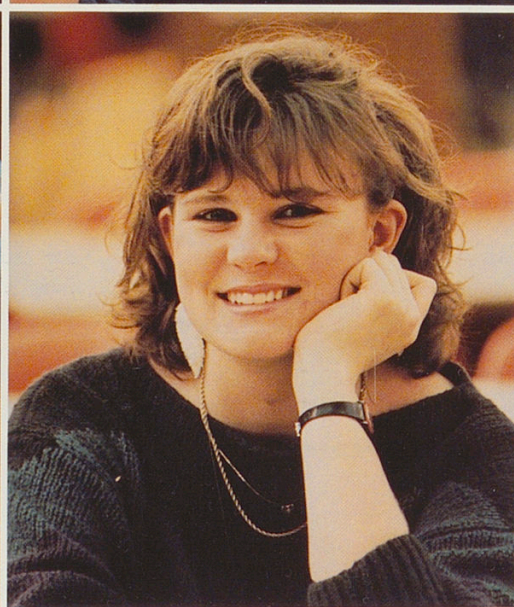

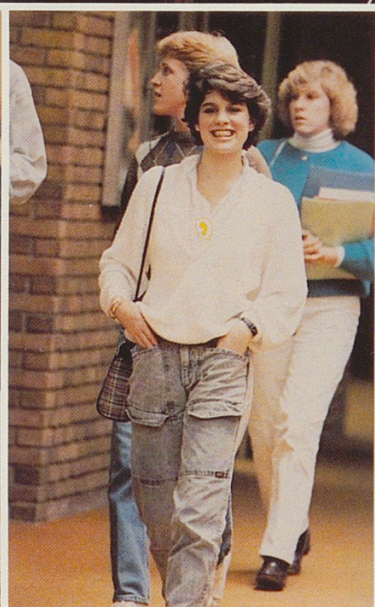

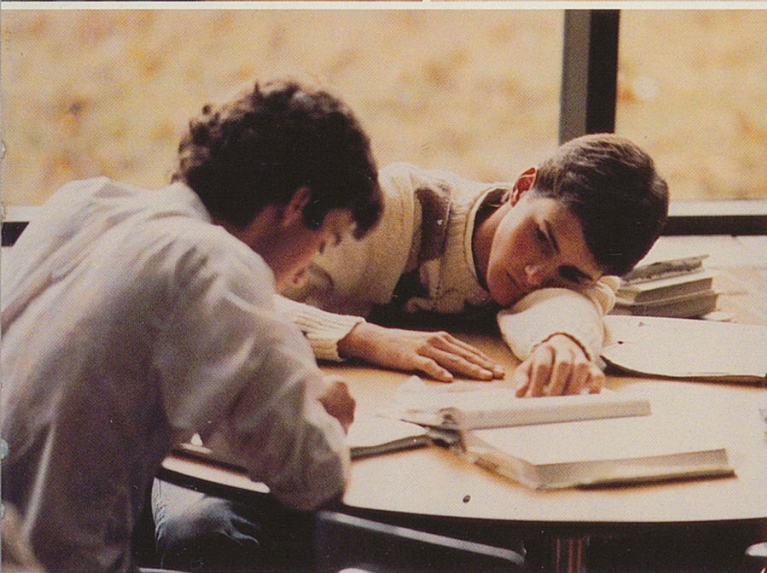

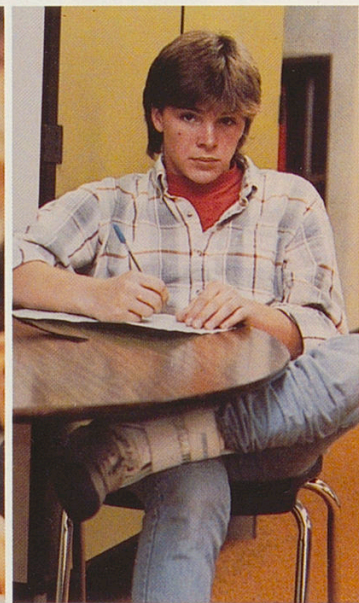

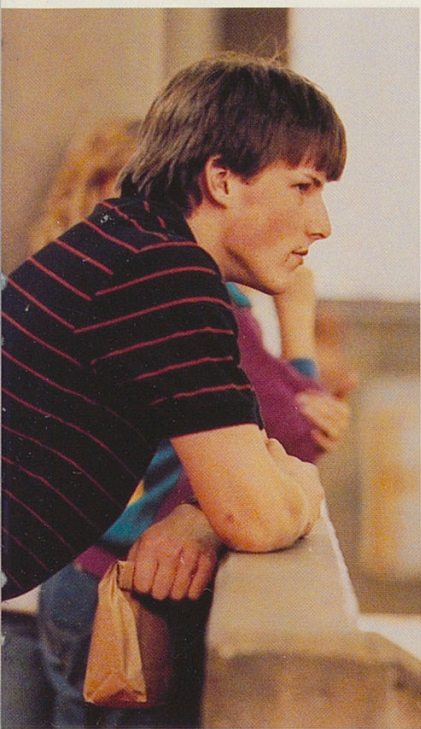

the Community

There are so many scenes around the Sycamore Community. Everyone has so many different interests and ideas. The student's interaction with other students is what makes going to Sycamore all worthwhile. Who would want to miss out!

the Individual

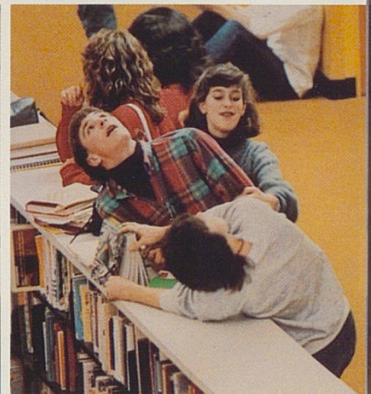

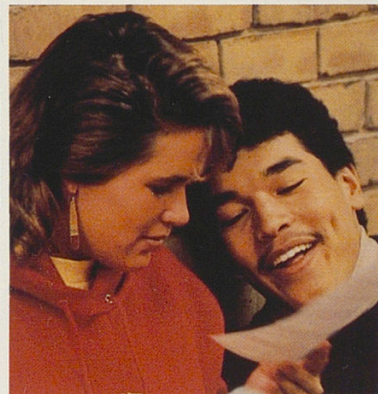

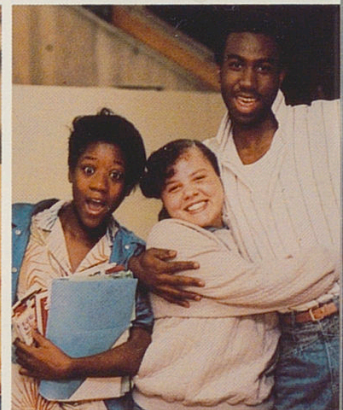

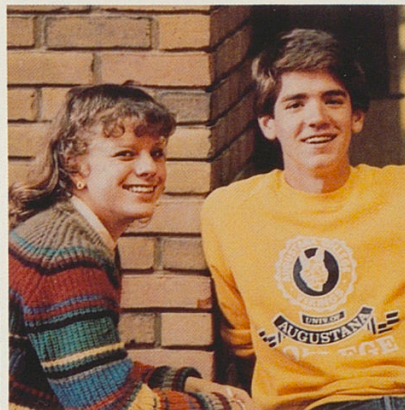

With Sycamore being as large as it is, there are bound to be many different types of people. We have our scholars, our clowns, our athletes and our artists, but then again, everyone stands out in his or her own way.

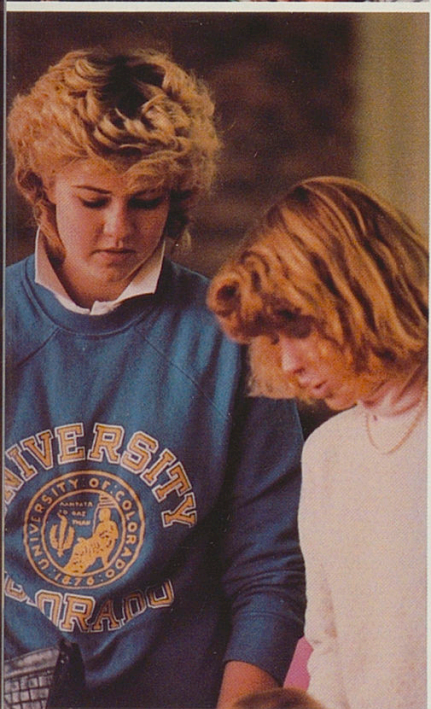

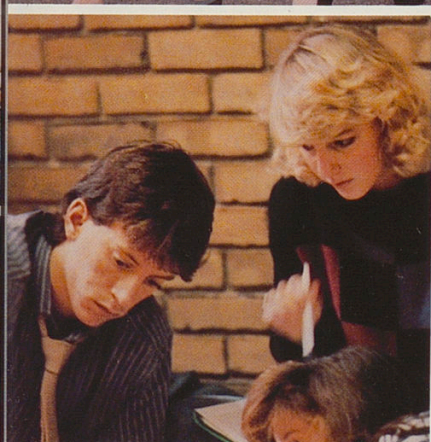

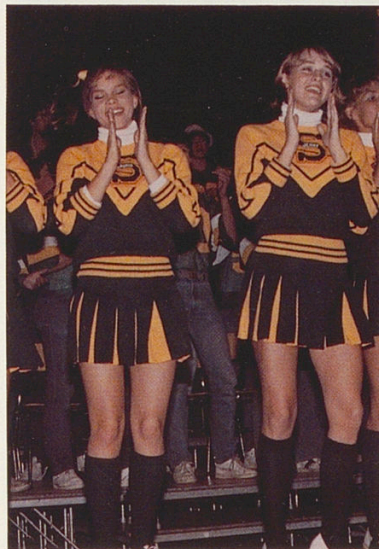

the Friends

They're people we can act crazy with, people we can study with, and people we can talk to. Sometimes they can be slightly embarrassing, but always making us laugh. On the whole, they're the greatest thing since sliced bread! Making friends is all part of the Sycamore experience.

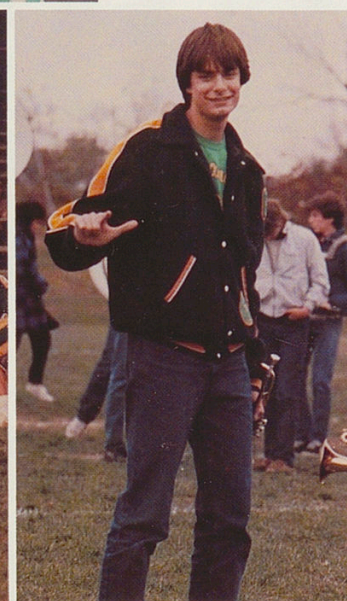

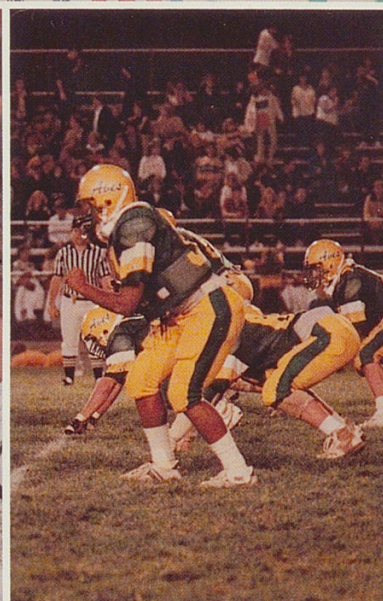

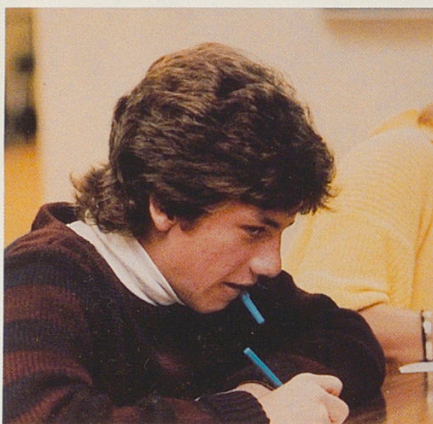

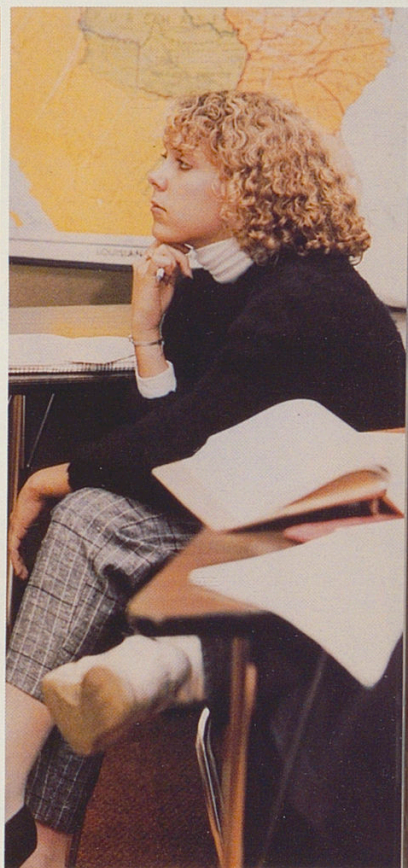

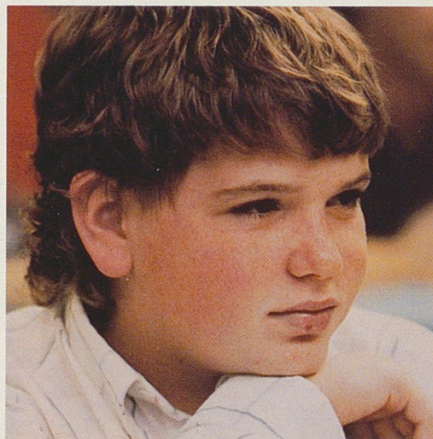

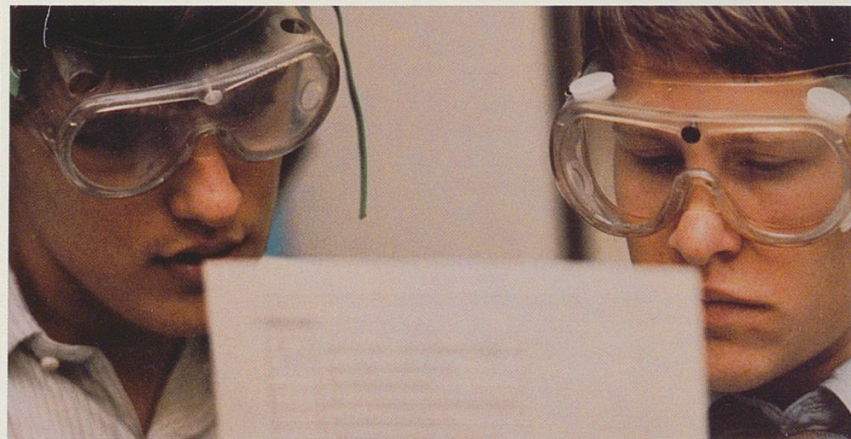

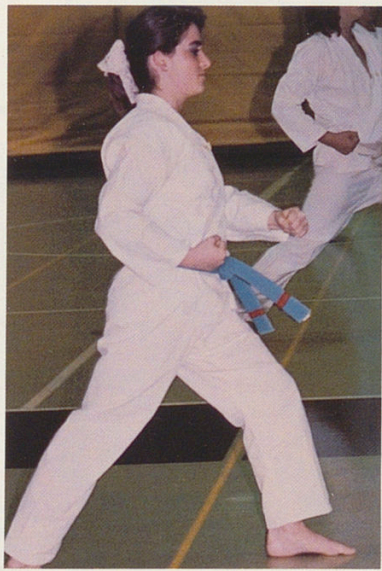

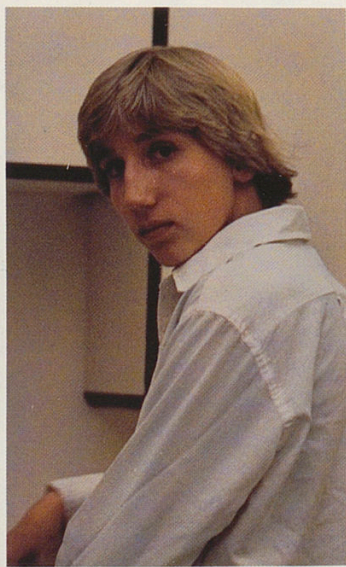

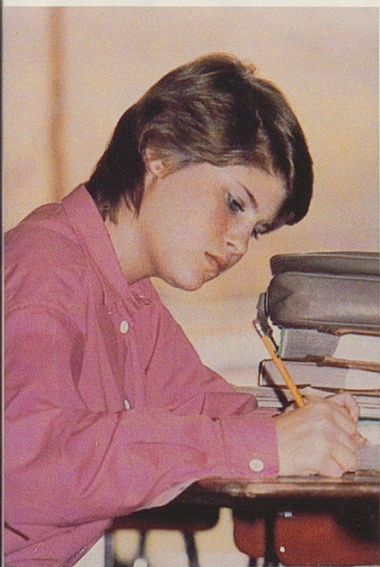

the Spirit

Sycamore students have traditionally had a lot of spirit, but in past years, it began to dwindle. With the formation of a new athletic league this year, spirit experienced a great revival. With so many great competitive athletic events, it's hard to have anything but Aviator Spirit!

the Achiever

Every one at Sycamore has his or her own area in which he or she can shine. The entire student body makes up a very large group of achievers. They are everybody, the artists, the athletes, and individuals, the scholars. Everywhere we look we can see their accomplishments.

STUDENT LIFE

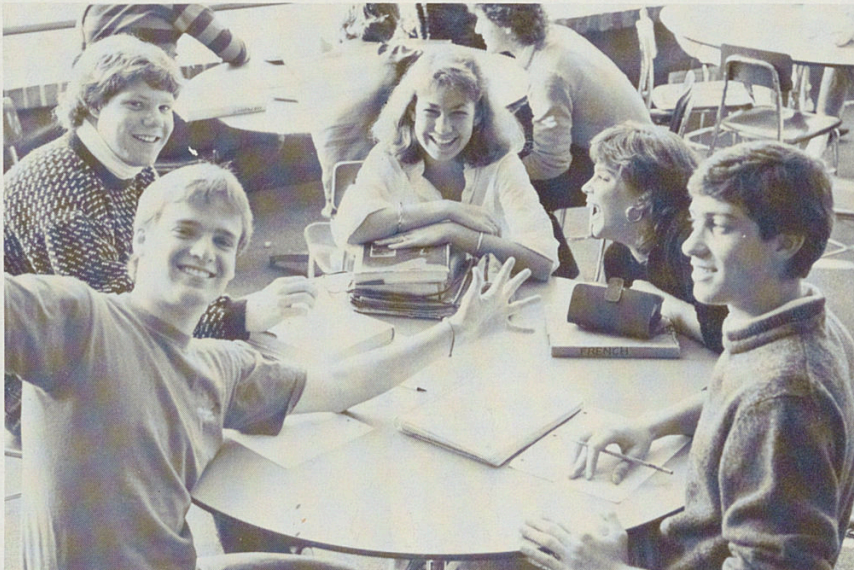

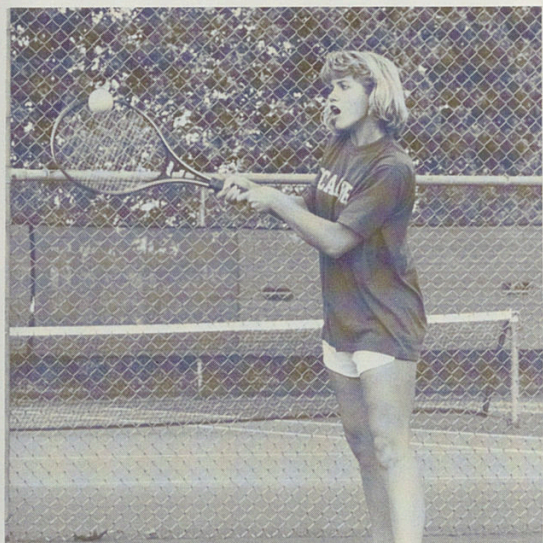

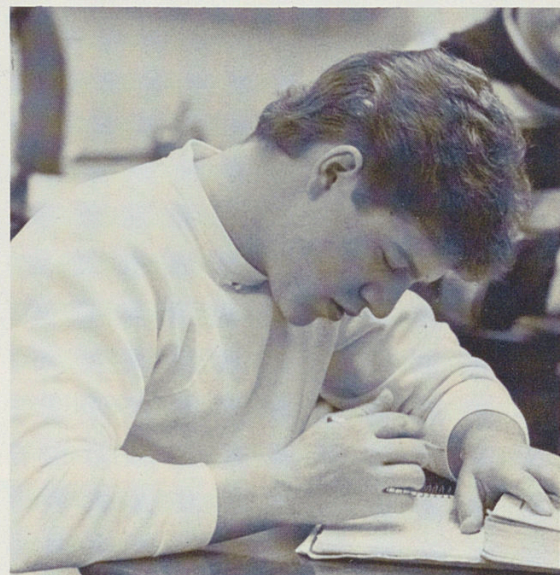

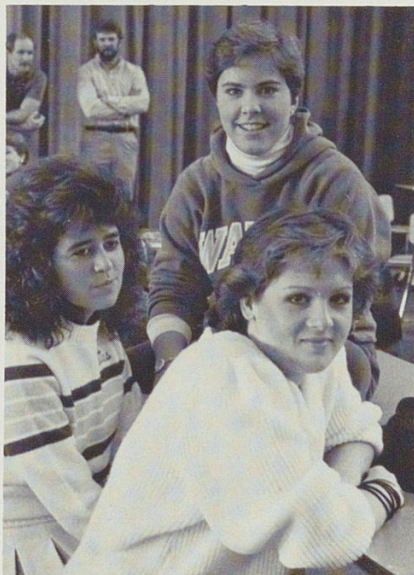

Fall

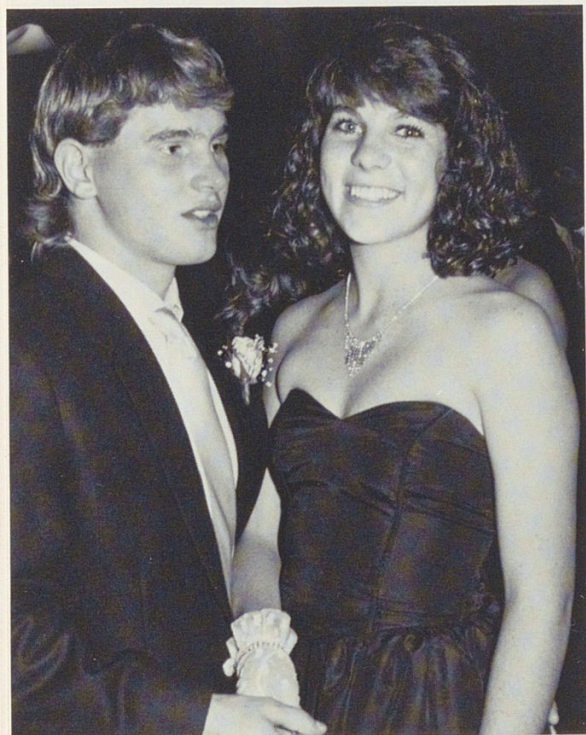

With autumn came the start of a new school year. After an enjoyable and extensive summer vacation, the students eagerly returned to their beloved internment. They were greeted by the new athletic league, parties and dances, and of course, the perennial boredom of homework. But the students of Sycamore did not let the ennui of school weigh them down, and during the 85 Homecoming, they demonstrated their capacity for intense jubilation. The crisp and cool breezes of autumn heralded the joys and miseries of the fall athletic season. Some teams performed with utmost vigor and excellence, while others idled and sputtered. For Sycamore autumn was not the beginning of a drop toward a nadir of apathy in 1985, but a resplendent ascent toward a worthwhile and exciting 1986.

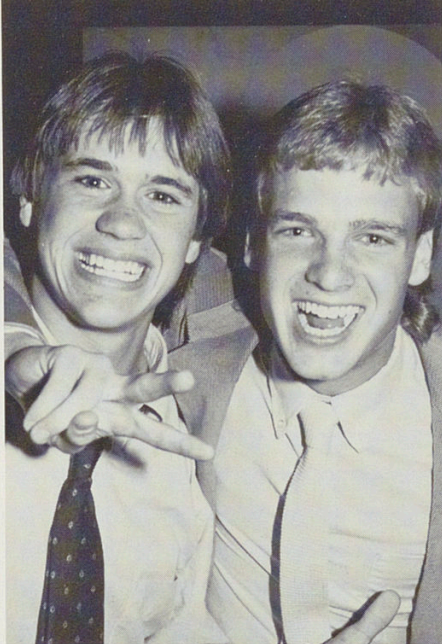

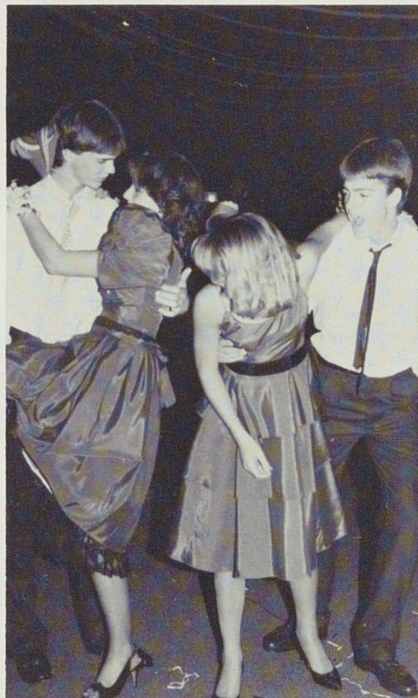

Homecoming

Homecoming of 1985 was an event that will kindle vivid memories for all those who were involved in the festivities. Over a three day span, Sycamore students enjoyed themselves, taking part in a bonfire, parade, Friday night's big Homecoming game, and Saturday night's dance. The Homecoming theme for 1985 was "New Year's Celebration." Dancing behind a backdrop of the New York skyline, students spent a night of fun and excitement. And what could Homecoming be without a king and queen. For 1985, Sycamore students chose Sean Callan as king and Paige Gibson as their queen. It was night which capped off an entertaining and ecstatic Homecoming Week for Sycamore. One which Sycamore students will look back on with fond remembrances of the nostalgia of youth.

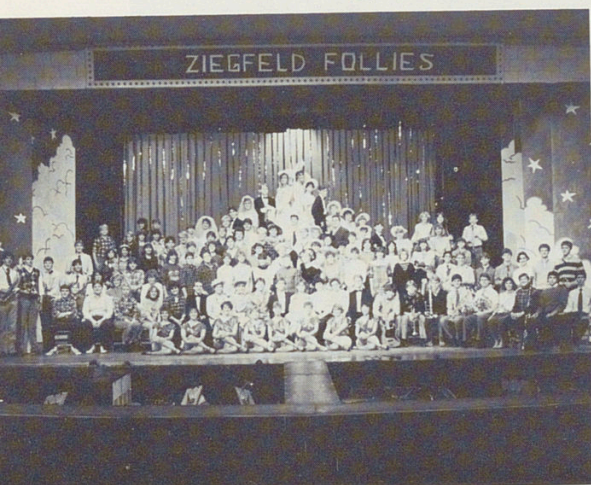

Homecoming

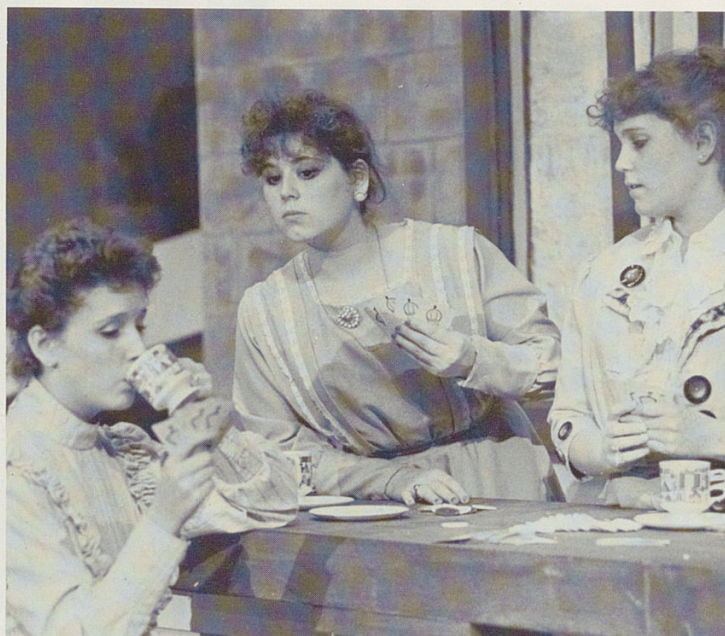

Funny Girl

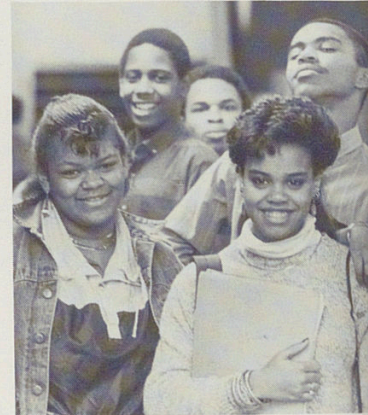

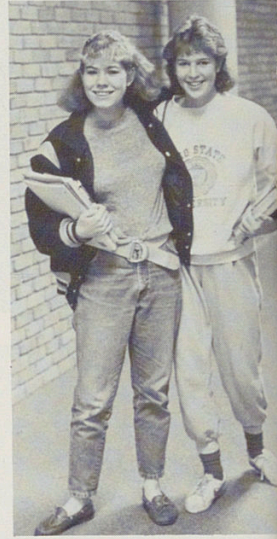

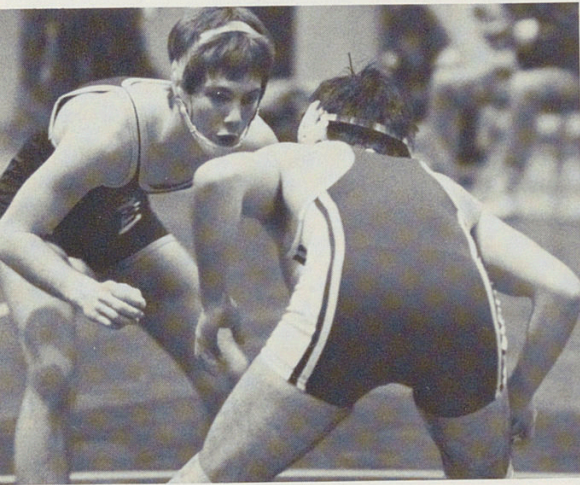

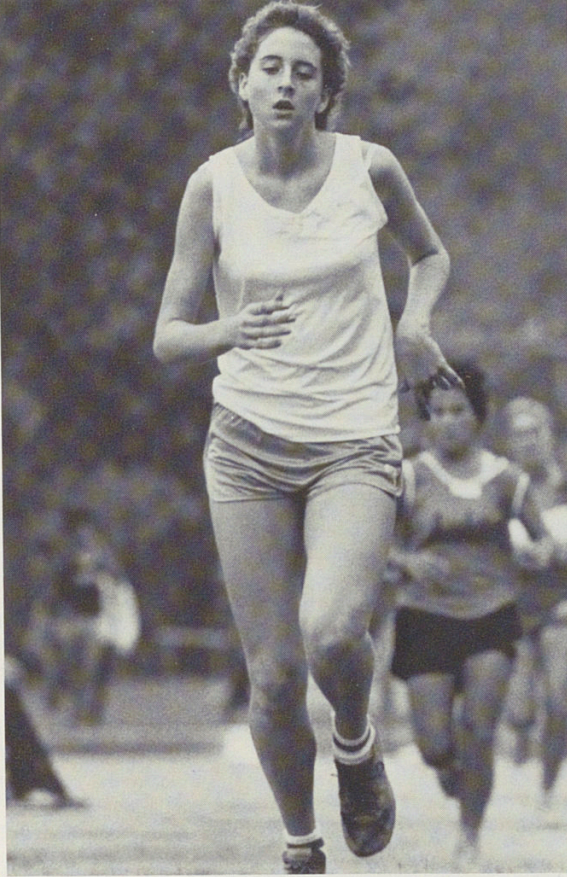

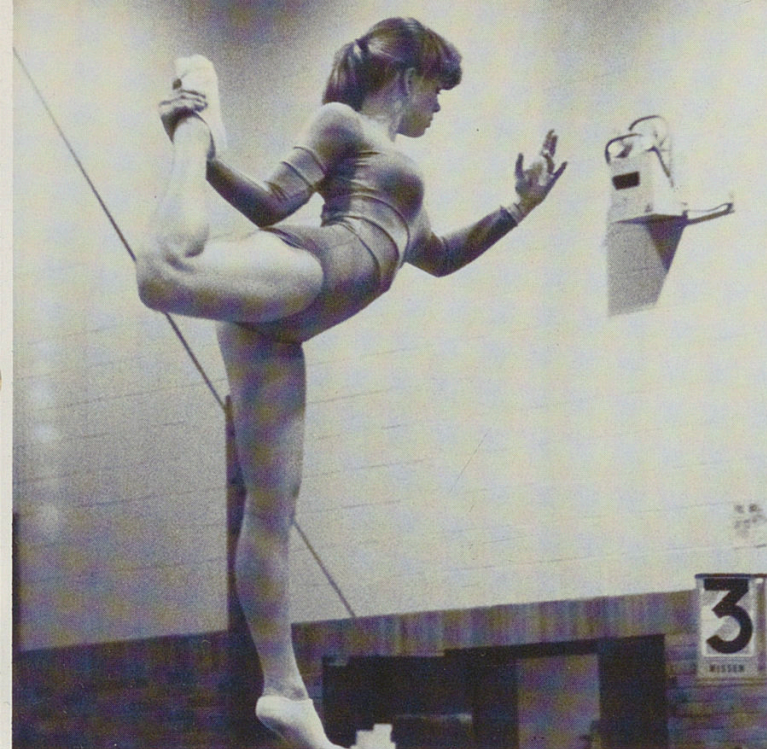

This year's musical, "Funny Girl", was an excellent production, combining the talents of a variety of Sycamore's actors, vocalists, and musicians. Spending long and grueling hours in rehearsal, the performers worked and labored for over a month before the musical debuted in late November. But the devotion and dedication of the cast, chorus, and orchestra paid off in the end. For those who attended the musical, they were treated with a dazzling and invigorating display of Sycamore's talented performers at their best.

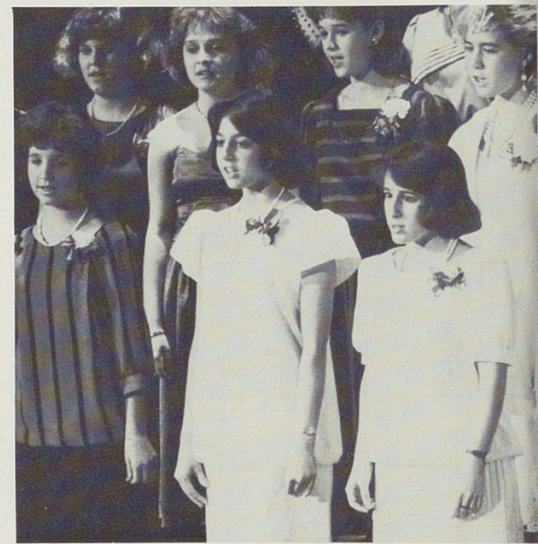

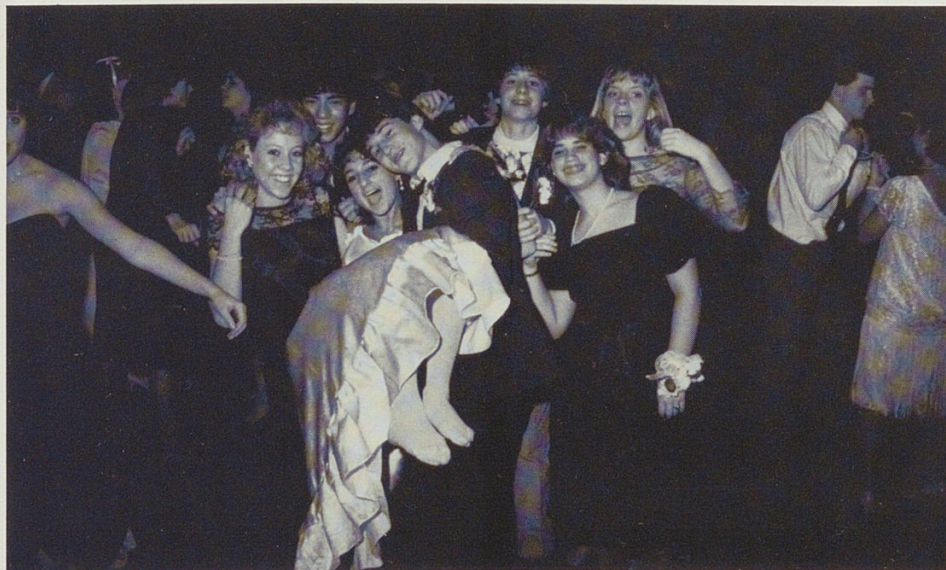

Winter

December, January, and February can be extremely dull months at most schools, but not at Sycamore High School. Basketball, informal dances, wrestling, and theater are merely part of the abundance of activities which help keep the students busy throughout the winter. Many come back to school from winter break with their newly gained tans, some come back with new wardrobes from Christmas, but seniors begin to itch for spring break. The cold and snowy weekends of these months are spent skiing and sledding. It's also time for the dreaded mid-term exams, the first for entering freshmen and the last for seniors, who are already beginning to feel the call of spring. Though winter seems to be relentless and unending, most Sycamore students will heartily agree, underneath layers of thermal underwear and feet clad in galoshes, that those chilly and wet months of winter were well spent.

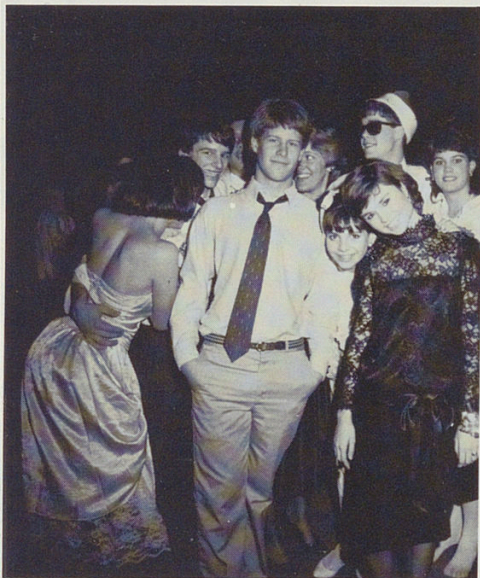

Winter Dance

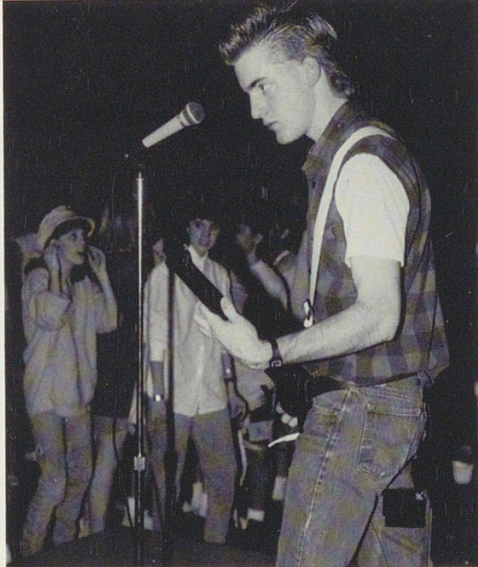

Girls got their chance to "Wine and Dine" their male counterparts this December. The annual Sycamore Holiday Celebration was held in the commons. Enchanted couples were greeted in a warm drawing room complete with hearth and chaise. Music was provided by a DJ who entertained the enthusiastic dancers. The night proved exciting for all and most left satisfied that the 1985 Holiday Celebration was a total success.

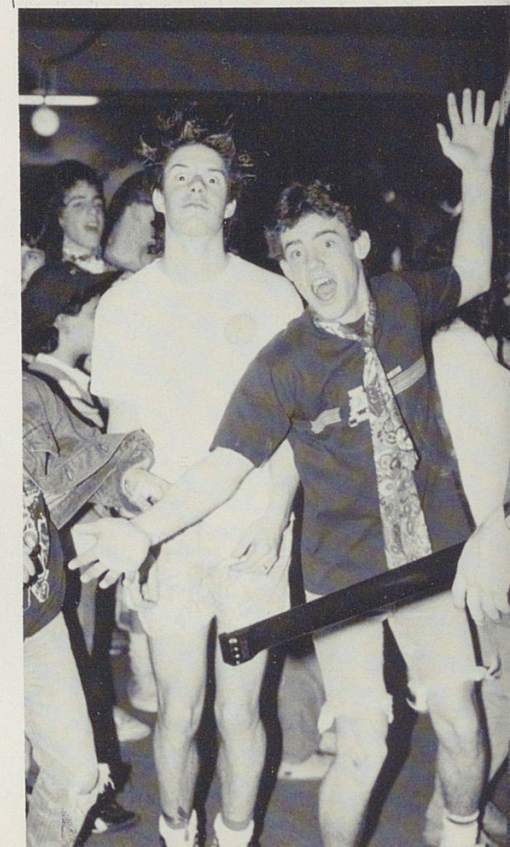

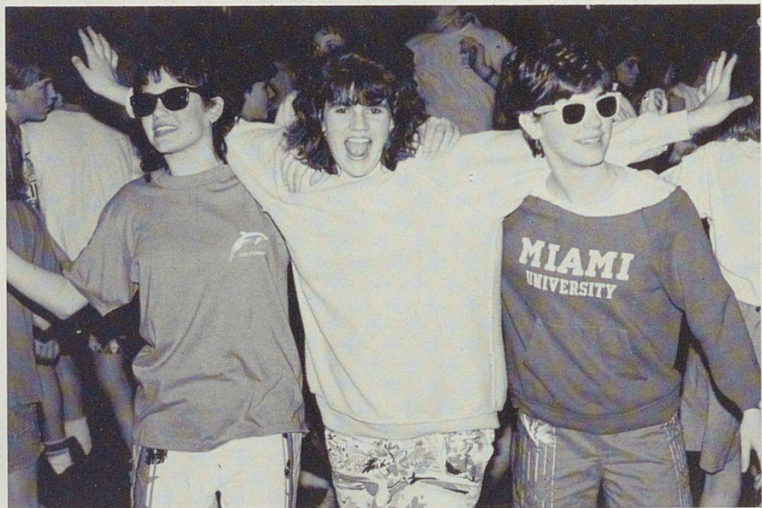

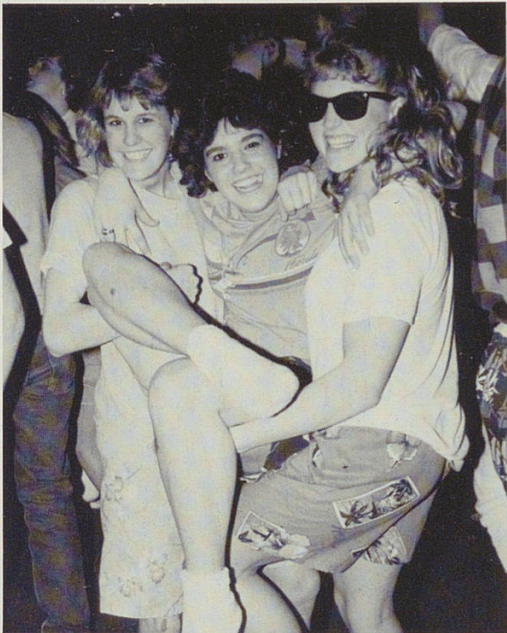

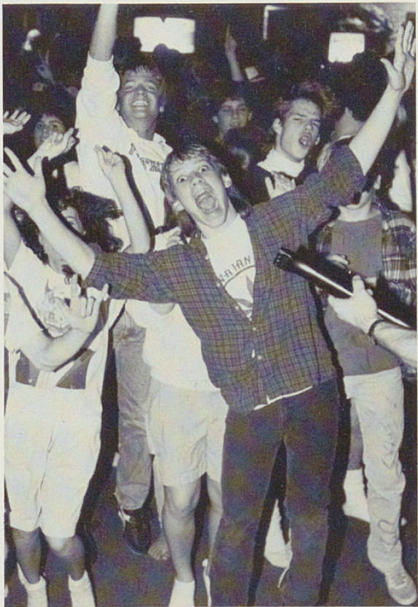

MORP

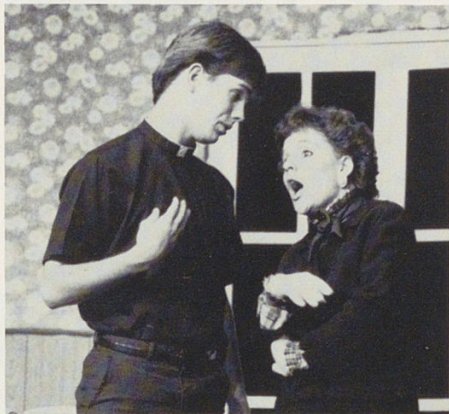

Under a sea of light green and blue pastel toilet paper, the 1986 MORP was initiated with all the trash and filth that has made this dance a popular event among Sycamore students. Wearing their favorite torn jeans and the most disgusting shirts seen this side of the world, Sycamore students gyrated to the playing of the Waiting. Beyond a doubt, this year's MORP was bloody fun, revelry heaped upon merriement, something which graduates will look upon with fond remembrances. For those still fortunate enough to be able to attend next year's MORP look your worst and keep in mind that if it smells like fish don't eat it.

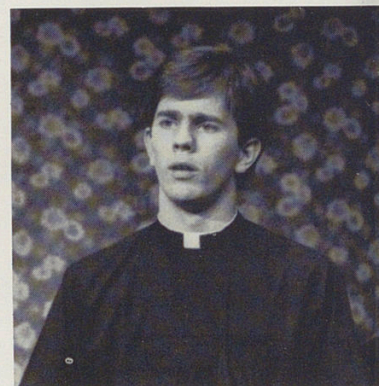

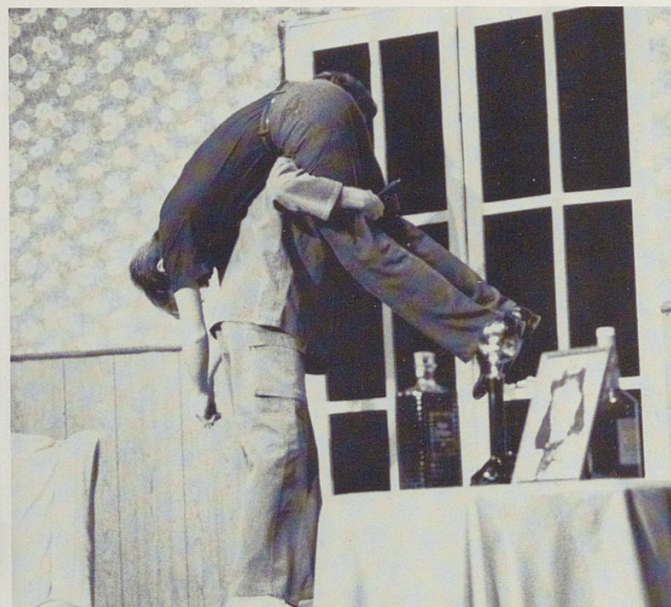

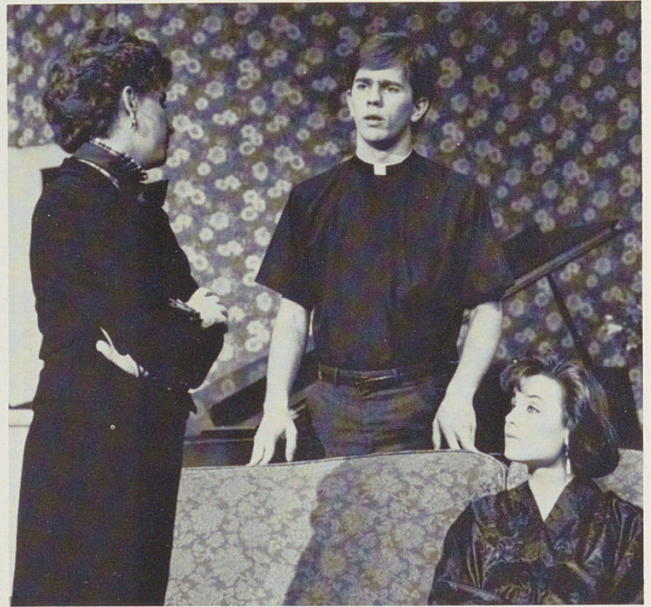

See How They Run

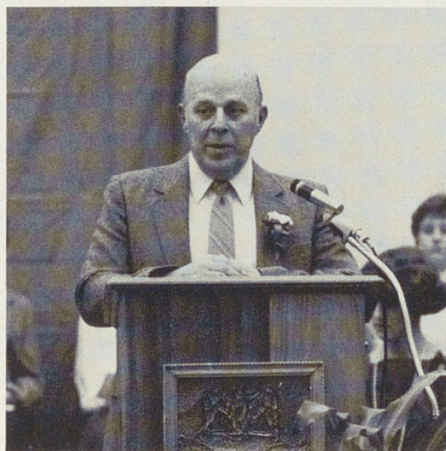

In the dead of winter, Sycamore High School's Theater Arts Group put on a British comedy, which was able to veil thoughts of winter with the warmth of good humor. See How They Run had a balanced cast which included a homogenous mixture of both old and new actors and actresses. The outcome of long hours of rehearsal and practice was highly entertaining event which will certainly be quite memorable for both the cast and the audience. The comedy, with its unique style of slapstick satire, went well with the audience. By the end of the night there was not a single soul who had not chuckled or grinned at least once. Just when the winter had just about drained the spirit of most students, the SSTAG winter production came through with the right dose of mirth and sarcasm. It was a welcomed respite for all.

National Honor Society

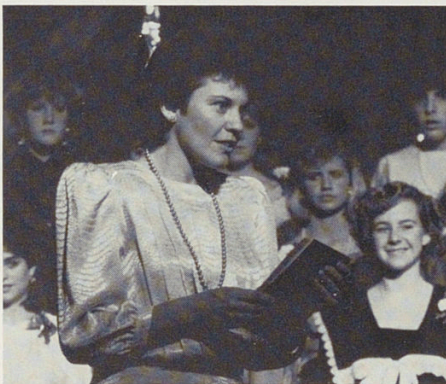

This year's National Honor Society induction heralded the membership of 26 new members into NHS. Characteristically, this year's new individuals maintained the high elements of scholarship, leadership, service, and character which are the basic tenets of NHS. Besides the new inductees, Mr. Paul Haverkos, physics teacher extraordinaire, was brought into the ranks of NHS as a faculty member. After an exuberant and moving quartet of speeches given by the NHS officers, the members and their families moved to the reception. Thus, NHS has maintained another year.

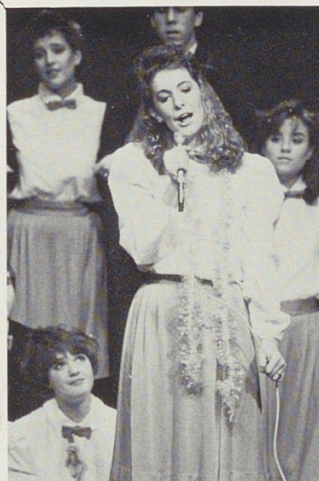

Choir

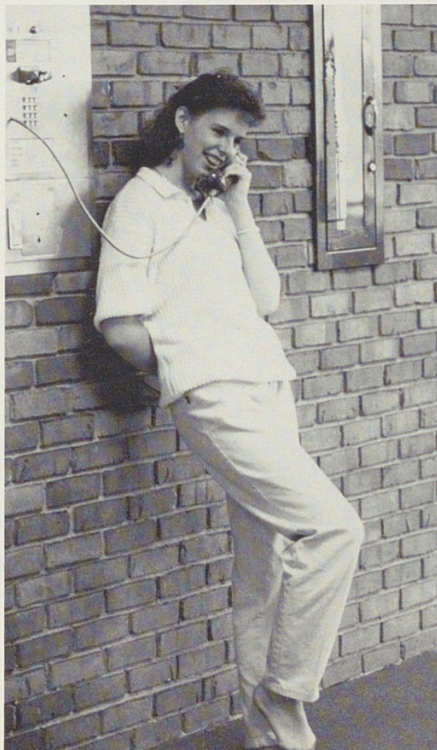

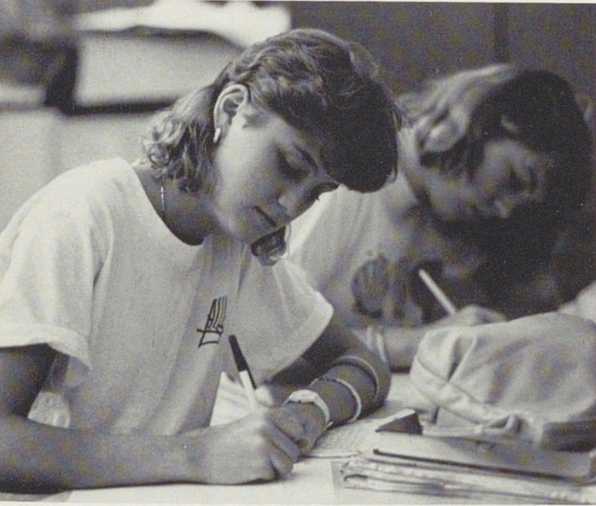

The harmonious voices of the Sycamore Choir filled this school year with the gentle and beautiful sounds of their singing. Exceptional performances were exhibited by the choir members in the annual Solo & Ensemble Contest as well as in the District Competition. Their many concerts kept right in line with the fine tradition of quality singing which the Sycamore Choir has developed over the years. Members of the choir topped off a outstanding year with a sonorous round of singing at the Arts Festival.

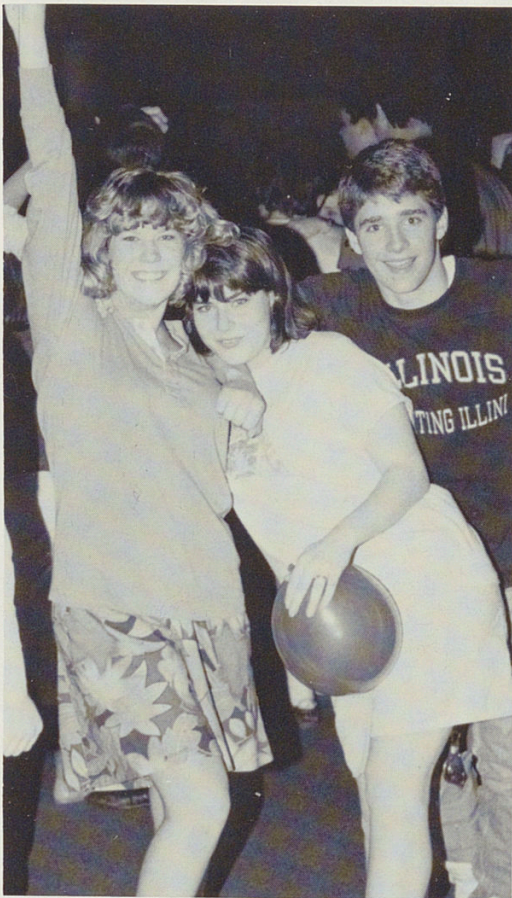

Spring

Two seasons down and one season to go. Spring, the final weeks of school until the much awaited and beloved spring break. Then when students return to Sycamore, the days are anxiously counted until school is finally out for the summer. Things begin to slow down as the doldrum of high school begins to take its toll on studying. Seniors plan their crazy and extravagant pranks, while unfortunate underclassmen prepare to take exams. Another year is on the brink of completion, and the memories are held. Seniors take these with them wherever they go, and the juniors, sophomores, and freshmen continue to build on them as they finish high school.

Band

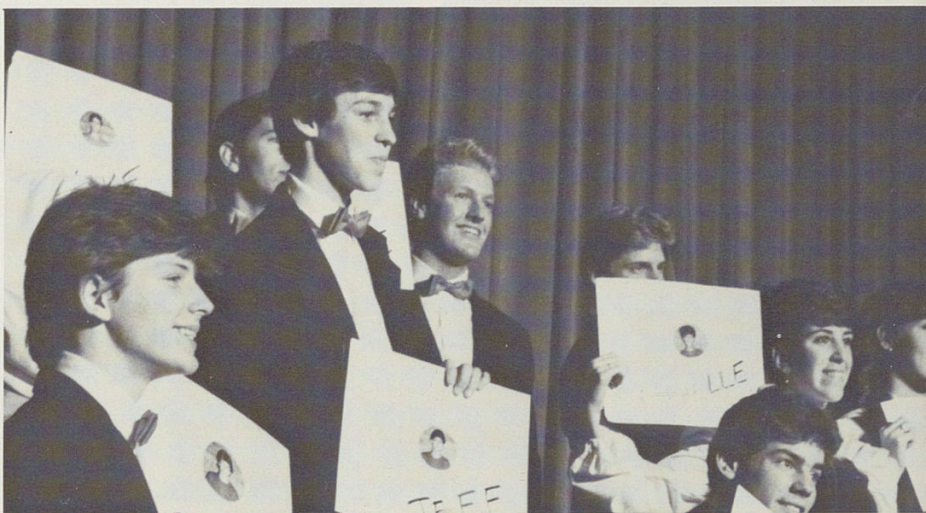

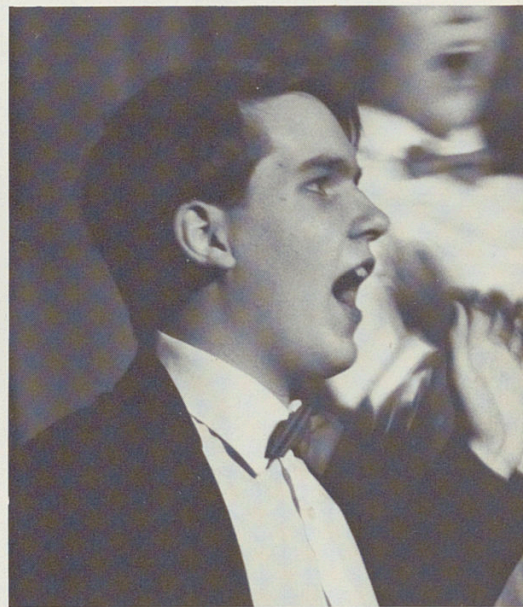

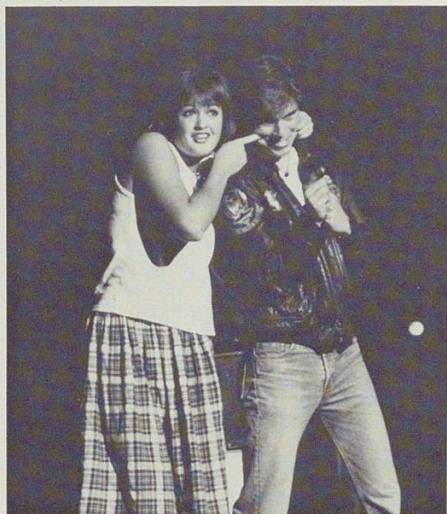

The band is an enthusiastic group at Sycamore. It promotes spirit in the school and extends this pride to the community through its many performances and activities. The band plays at football games, the Fine Arts Festival, and graduation. In addition, the band performs in numerous parades, contests, and concerts throughout the area. Also, members participate annually in Perkin's Night and Tag Day to raise money for new uniforms and possible trips. The band continues to show its excellence having several members selected for Cincinnati Youth Symphony and others for All-State Band. Also, congratulations to the Green Band who received a superior rating at the district contest!

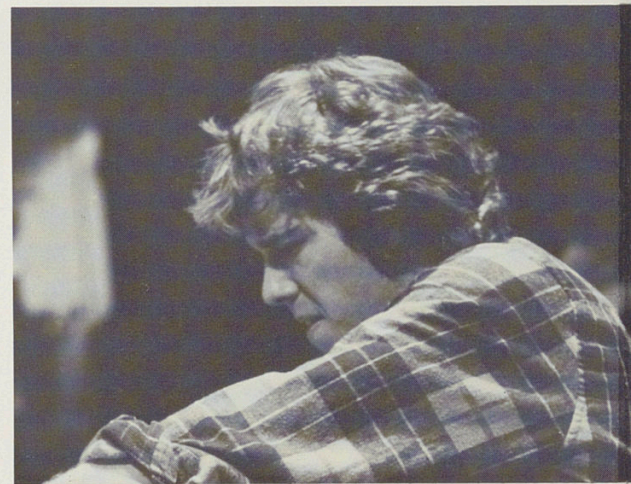

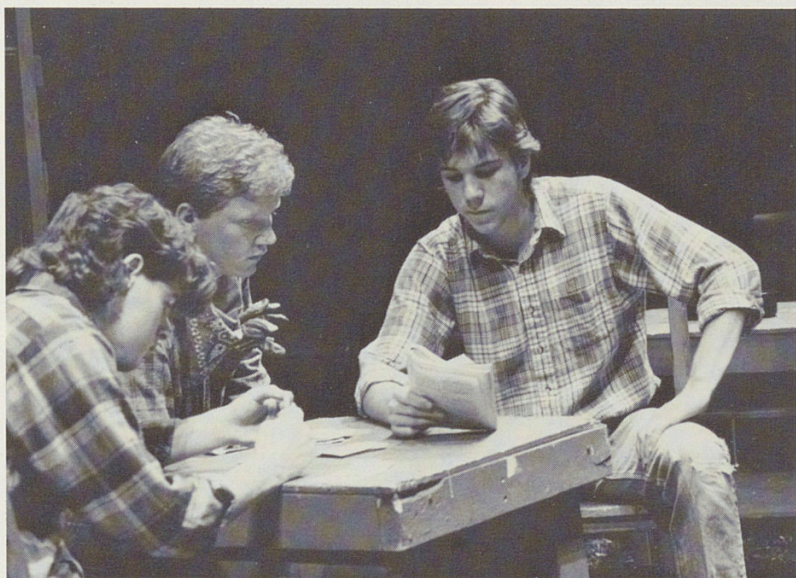

Touring Company

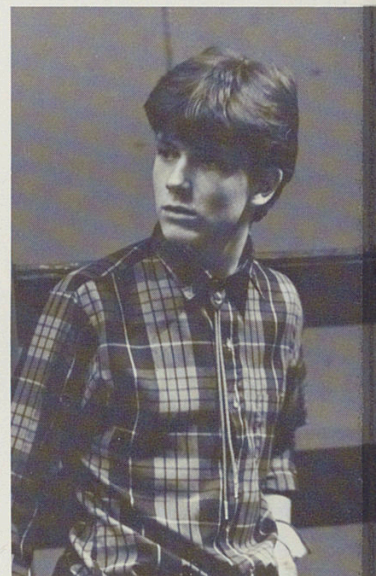

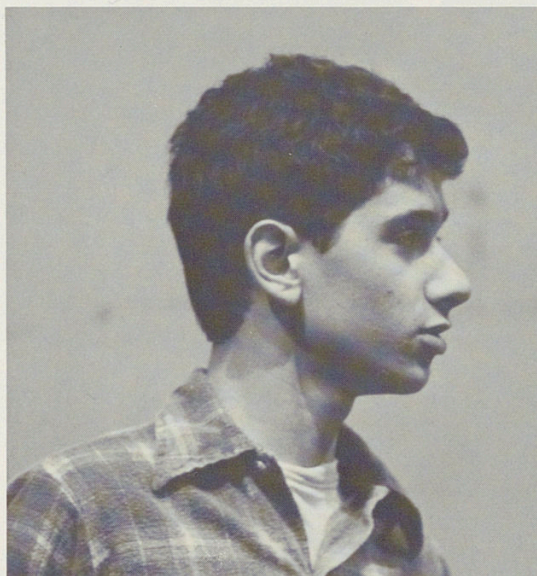

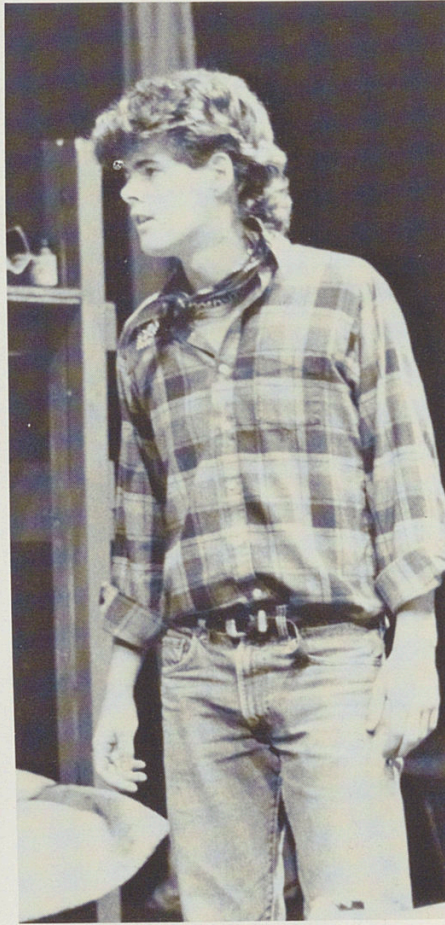

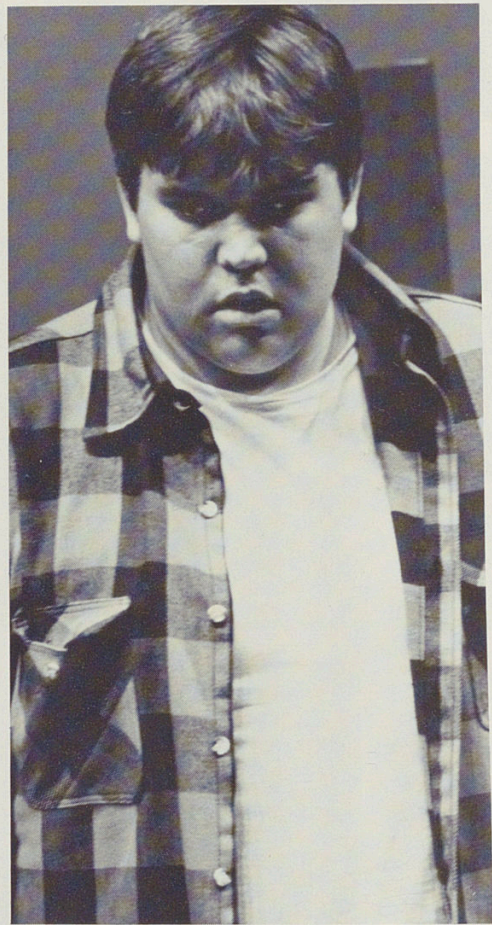

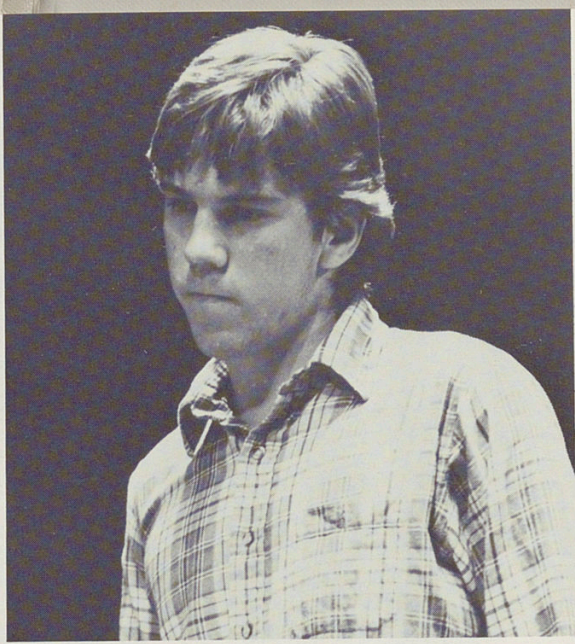

For Sycamore High School, this year's Touring Company provided a continuation of an enjoyable and rewarding tradition of vocal excellence. With its many concerts and performances, the Touring Company delighted audiences, and through numerous contests, the many talented vocalists in the Touring Company gained recognition for their work and commitment.

Of Mice And Men

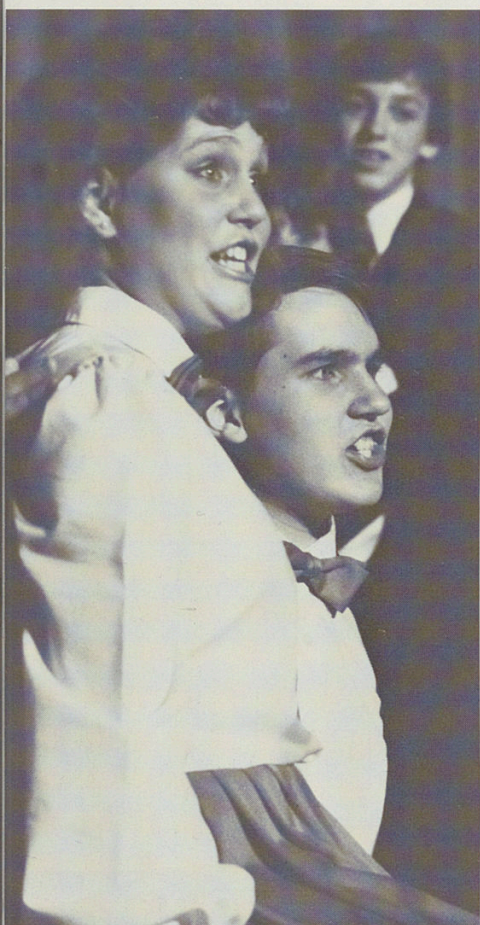

This spring's theatrical production was the poignant and touching tale of friendship and compassion, Of Mice and Men. Utilizing the many talented actors and actresses in the Theater Arts Group, the play was performed with a believable and enjoyable energy and vigor. The hours of hard work and practice definitely were revealed by the great performance which was put in by the actors. With Sam Womelsdorf and Ted Jackson taking the lead roles of George and Lenny respectively, the play was fitted with two fine actors, who along with Christian Behm, Rusty Rouse, Kevin Crapsey, Curtis Smith, and Juli Risenfield ended the 1986 season in a grand manner.

Fine Arts Festival

The 1986 Fine Arts Festival was once again a huge success. This annual display of the artistic talent of the Sycamore students attracted large audiences to every performance. The choirs, bands, and orchestras were very entertaining as was the art show. Overall, the three-day Fine Arts Festival was an experience enjoyed by all.

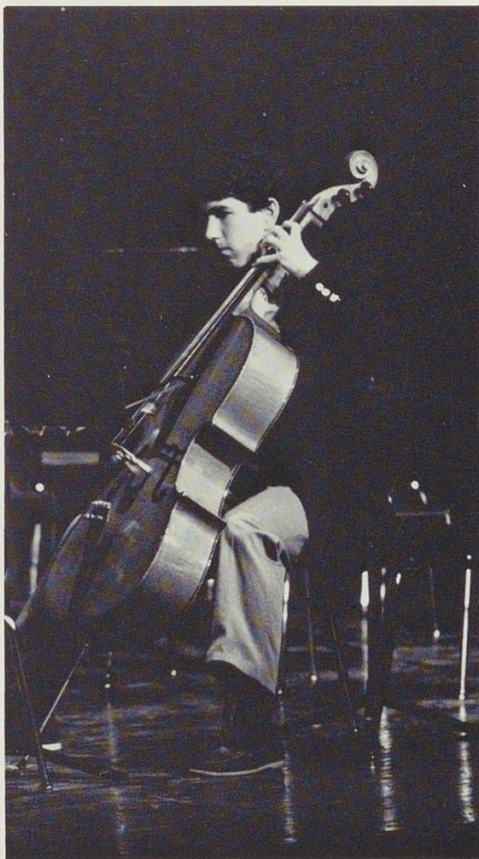

Orchestra

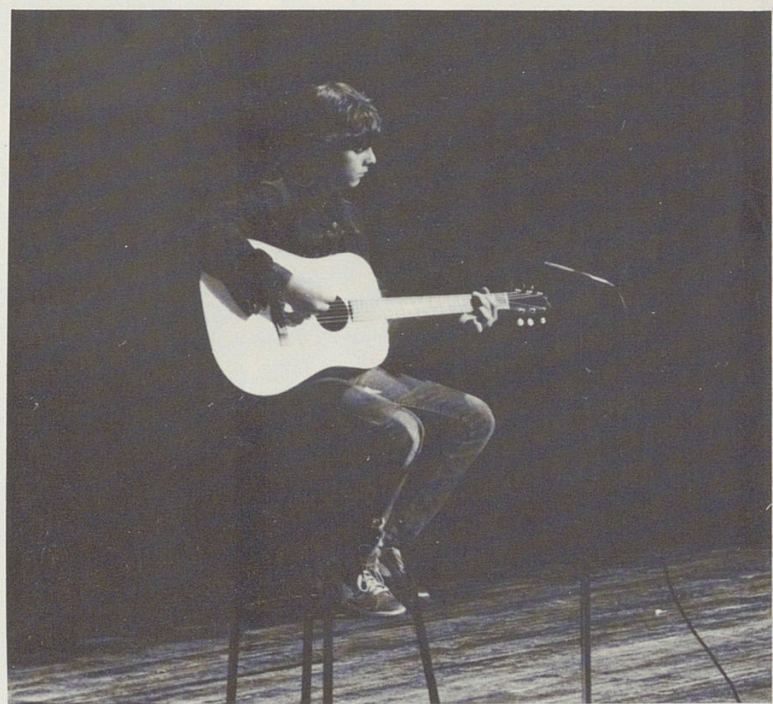

Although the orchestra is one of the less recognized performing groups at Sycamore, it contributes quite a bit to the school. Throughout the year, the orchestra performs several concerts, which highlight the works of more classical composers. It also takes part in the yearly musical and plays at the Fine Arts Festival.

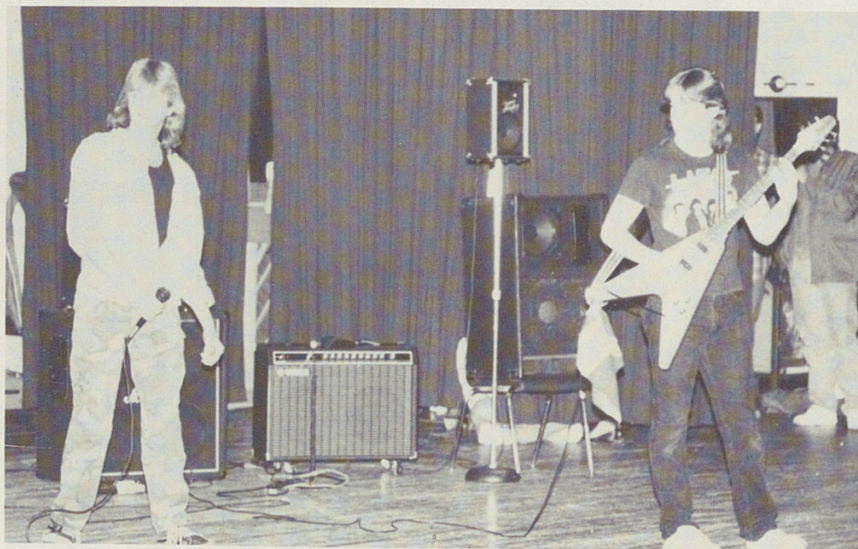

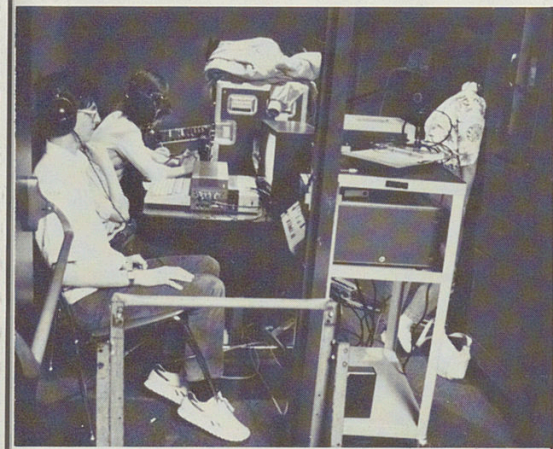

Variety Show

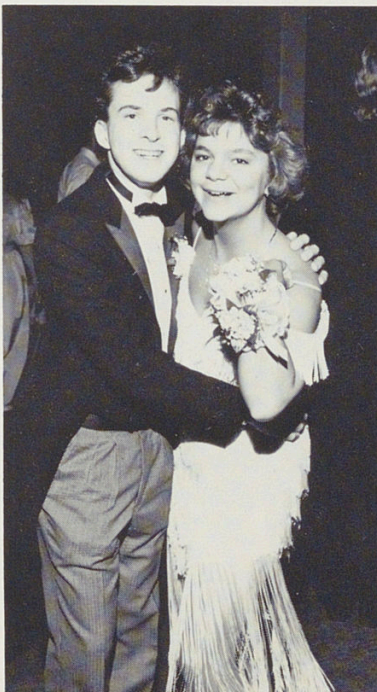

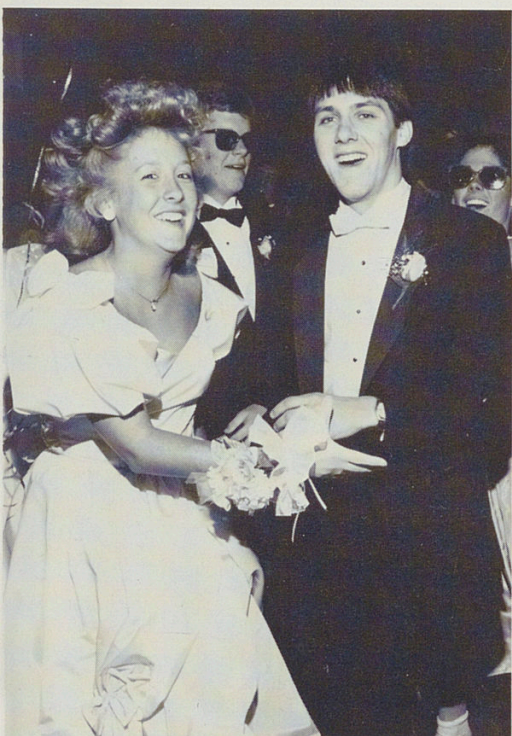

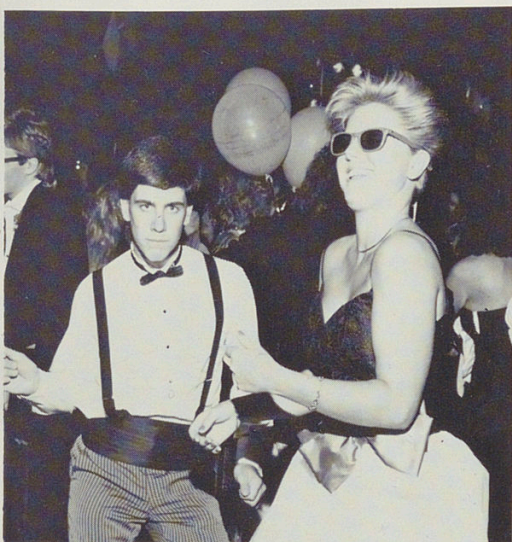

One night every year a few students with an unquenchable thirst for glory and recognition put themselves at the mercy of the rest of their peers. The 1986 Sycamore Talent Show was undoubtedly enjoyable, whether it was dancing, singing, or playing, the long hours of practice and preparation showed through. Yet, despite the quality of all the acts, only one act could win in each category. This year the winners in each category were clearly chosen for their ability and skill. Through the night, the Sycamore Talent Show turned out to be rewarding for the performers and enjoyable for the audience.

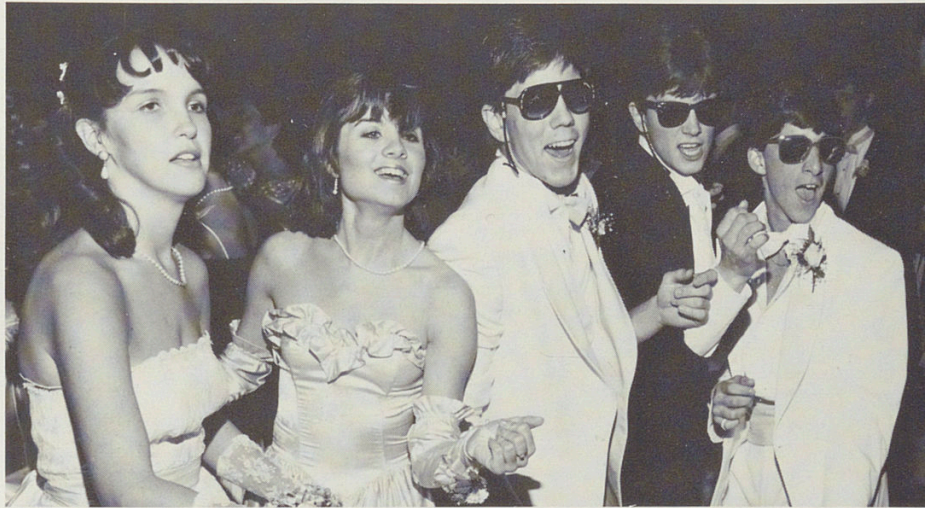

Prom 1986

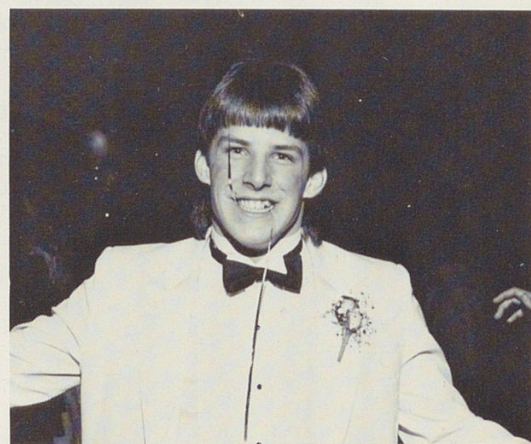

Young men dressed up in tuxedos, dignified in all the maturity of their attire, and young ladies filled with brilliance, delightful and beautiful. The 1986 Sycamore Prom was the culmination of a year full of pleasant and exciting memories. It was a moment for stopping to recall and savor the companionship of friends, not only for seniors but also for juniors. Yet, Prom has special significance for seniors, representing the highlight of a spectacular year, it is retained in memory as an event, which was both nostalgic and delightful.

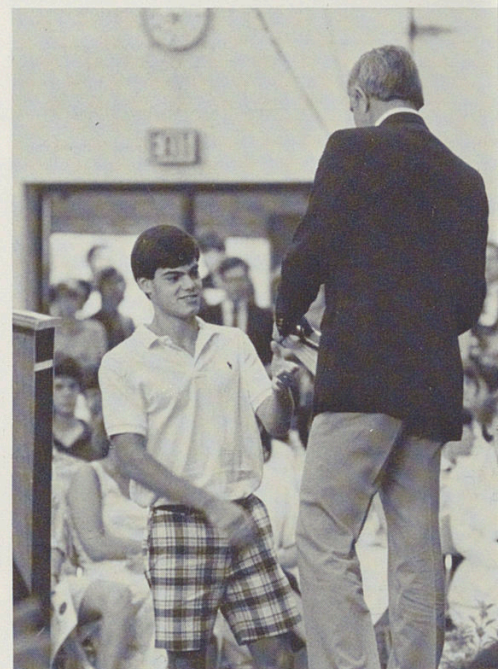

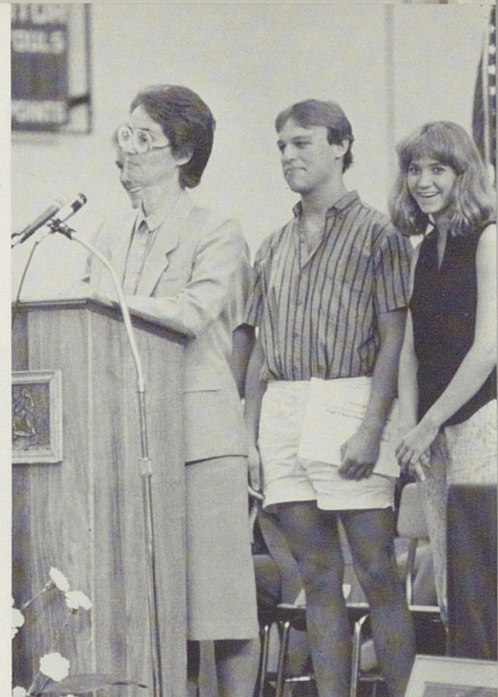

“Don’t You Forget About Me”

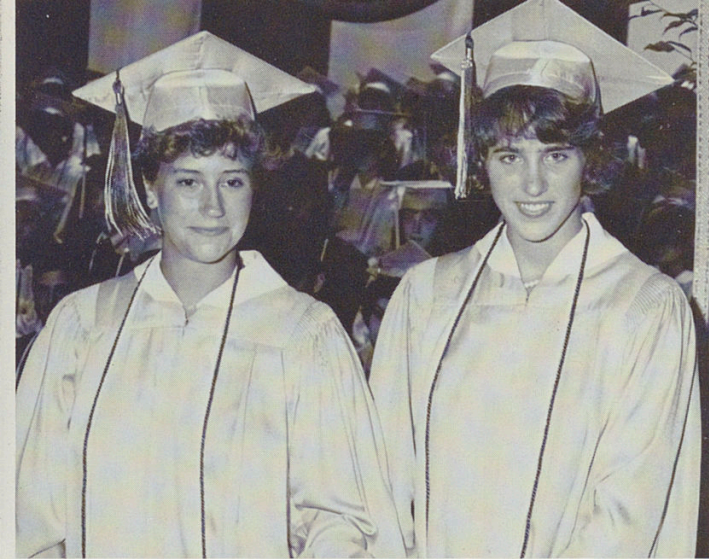

Underclass Awards

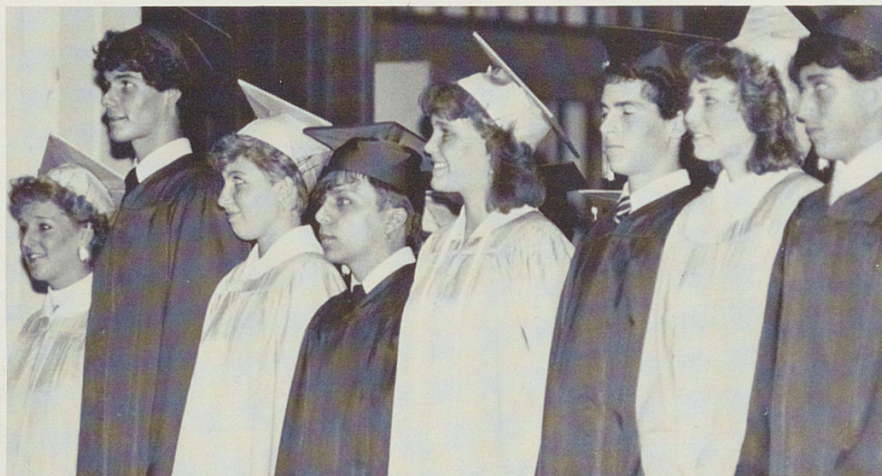

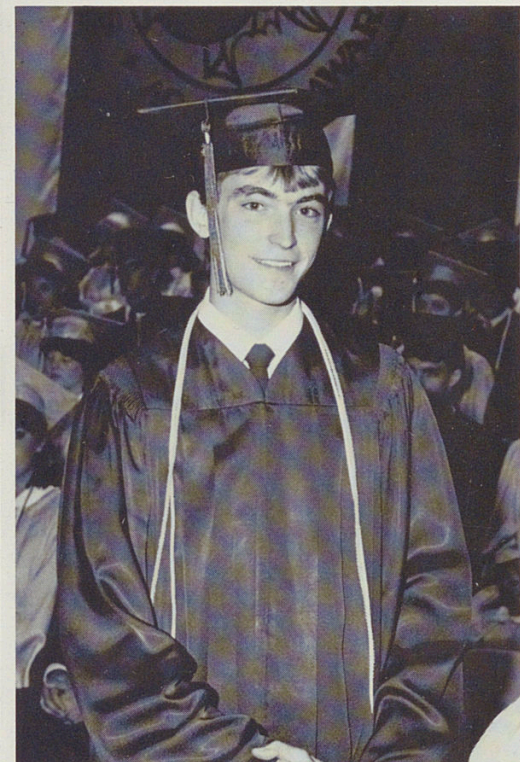

The Underclass Awards Assembly recognized excellence in all subjects and levels. Usually determined through testing and performance in the class, the winners of the awards are representative of the finest students at Sycamore. Besides competition within Sycamore, the Awards Assembly also extols the achievements of Sycamore students in competition throughout Ohio. With each year the academic reputation of Sycamore seems to grow and develop into a perennial power.

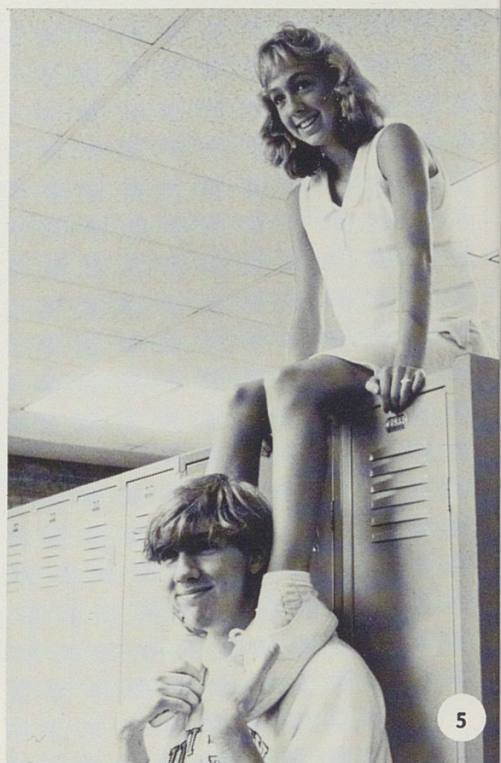

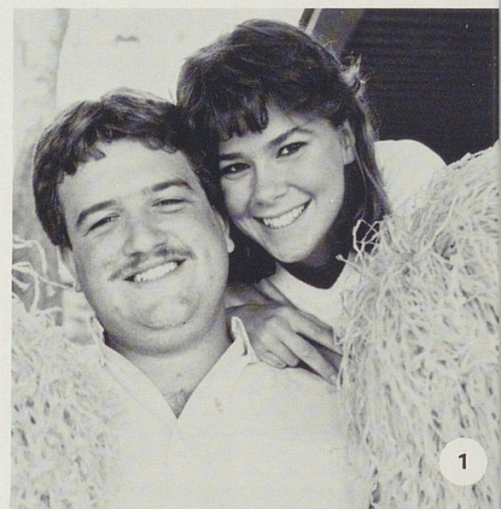

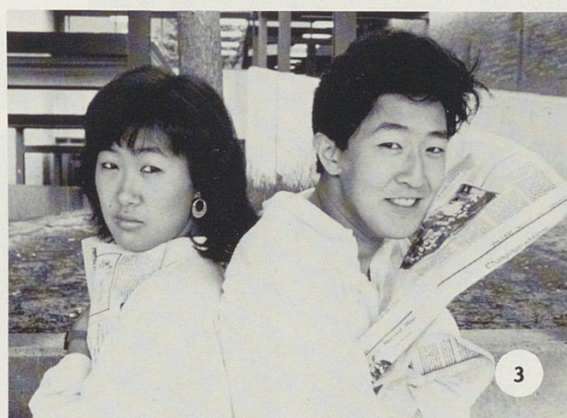

Senior Recognition

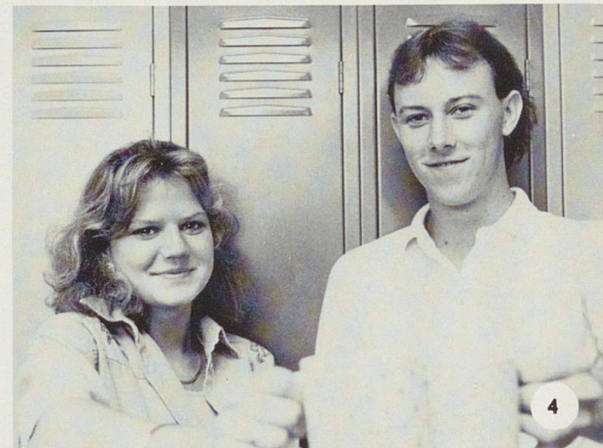

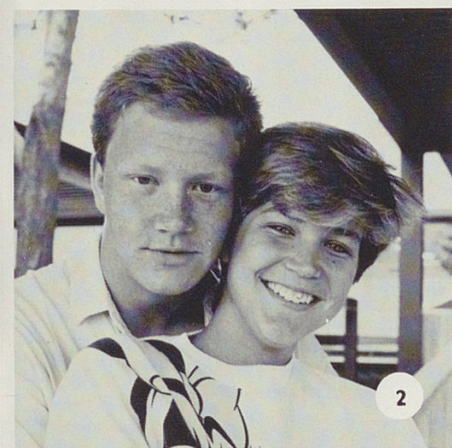

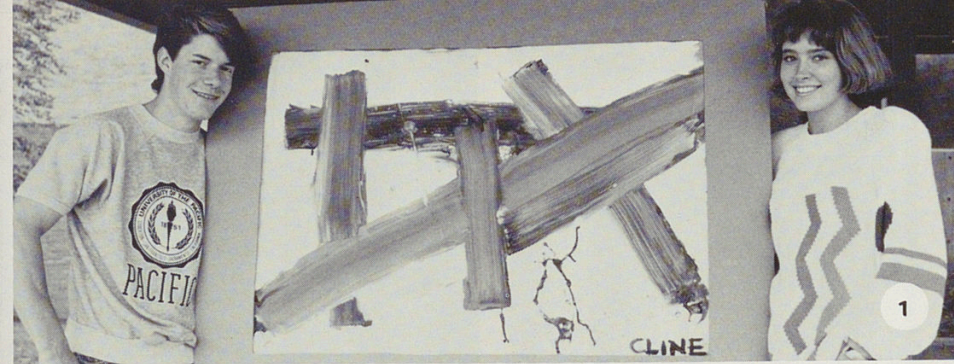

At the Senior Recognition Night, the graduating class receives acknowledgement for the awards and scholarships which they have garnered through their senior year of high school. With the large number of awards and students involved, Senior Recognition Night clearly showed the overall excellence of the graduating class.

Graduation

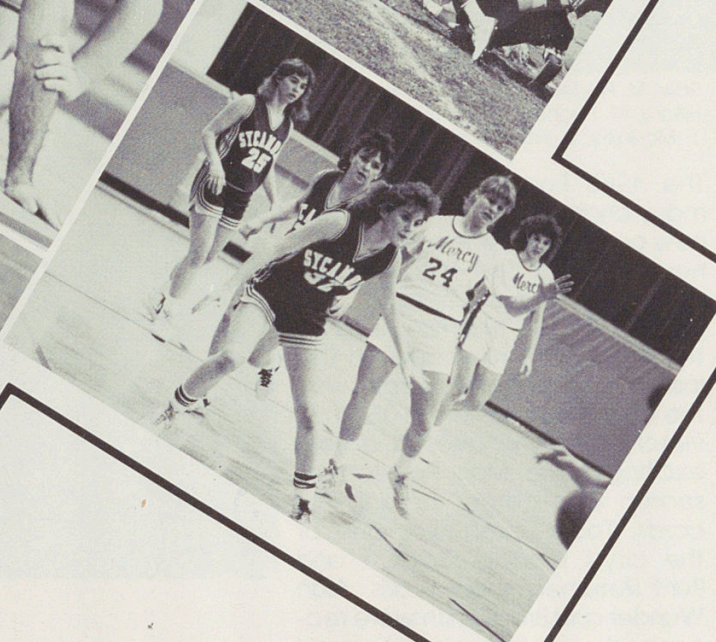

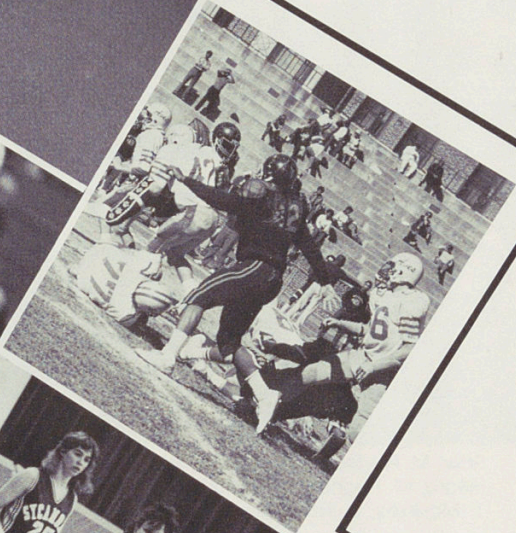

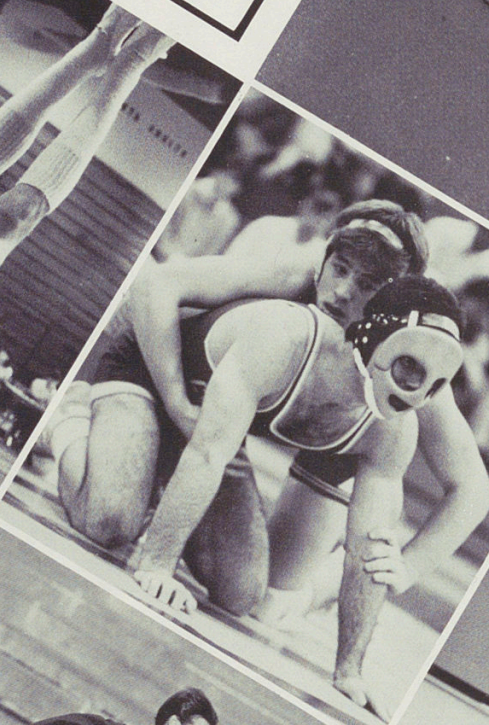

Every year in the beginning of summer, the graduating class of Sycamore High School is recognized and lauded in their commencement exercise. For their teachers, parents, and friends, it is the culmination of four years of growing and learning. For the soon-to-be graduates, it constitutes the opportunity and challenge of college and adult-life. But the commencement and the subsequent celebration fall far short of properly commending the class of 1986. Although not always appreciated or understood, the myriad of accolades, scholarships, and awards that this class has accumulated place it with the best classes to have ever graduated from Sycamore.

The 1985 Aviators adapted to the changes and played for the championship of the Eastern Metro League in the last league game. Withrow won the championship with a 35 to 27 victory over the Aves in a very exciting game. Mark Pavlech set season and career passing records, Todd Eckert was one of the city's leading Kick-Off and Punt Returners, Tyler Wallis, Alan Wunder and Brad Smith were recognized as outstanding linemen.

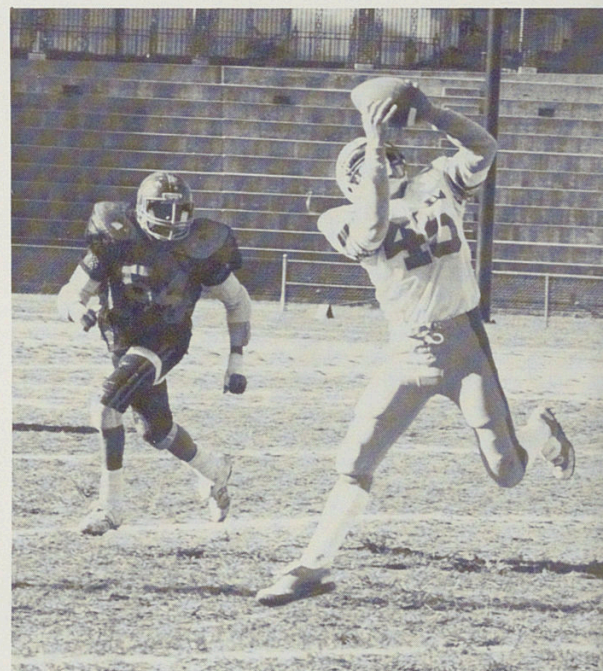

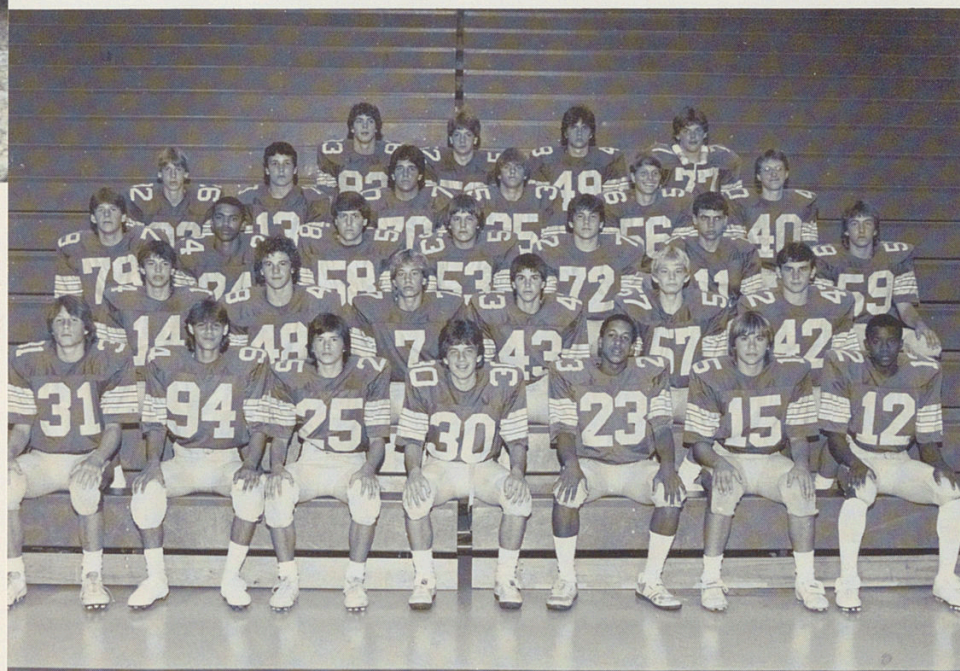

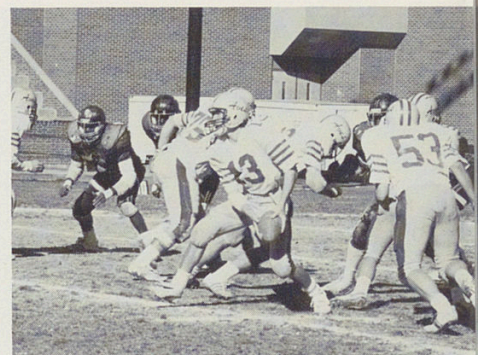

JV Football

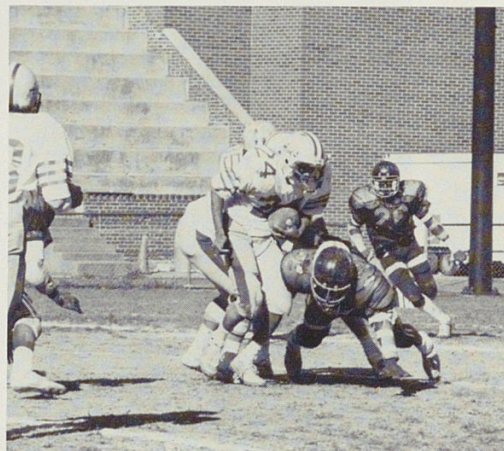

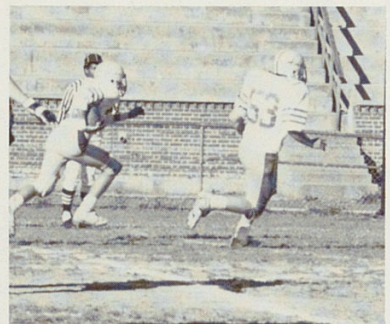

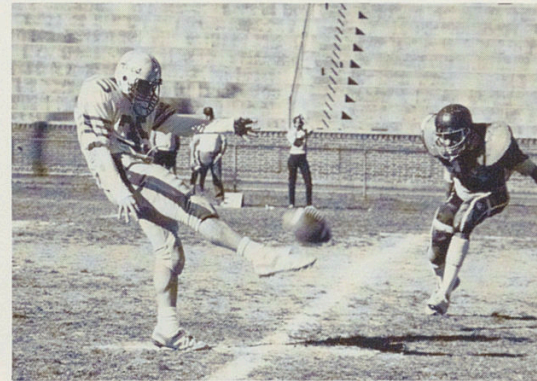

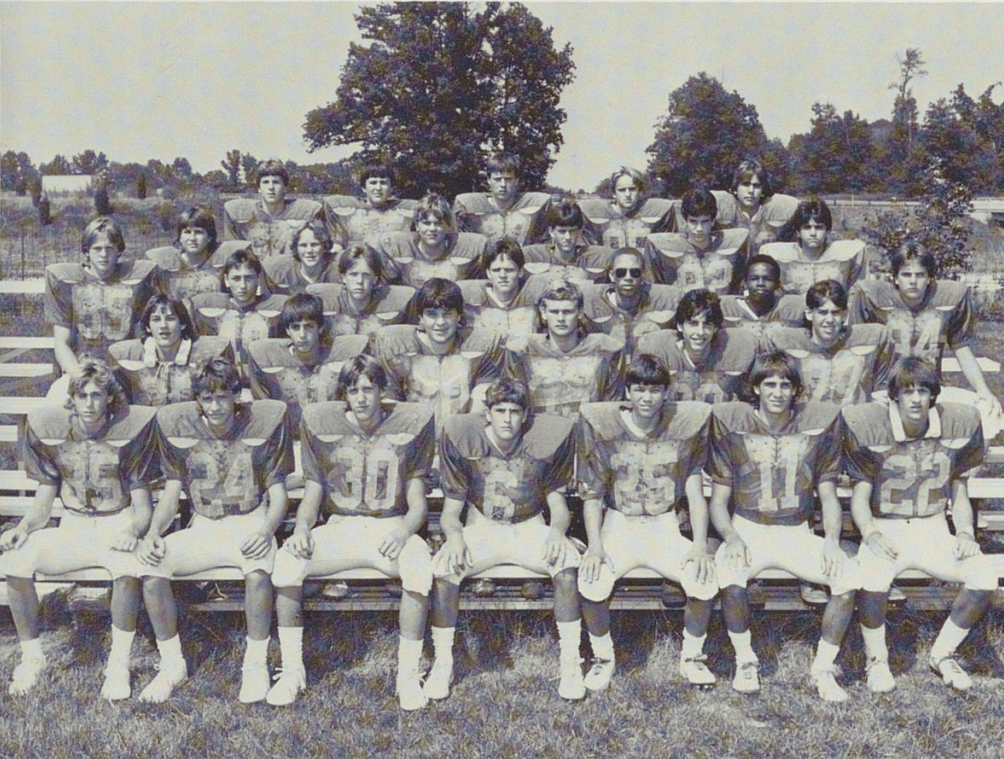

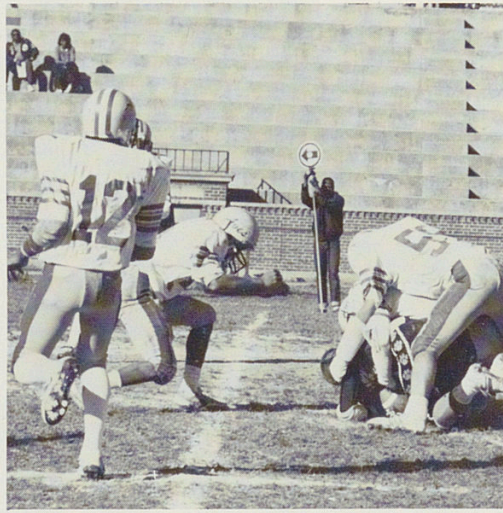

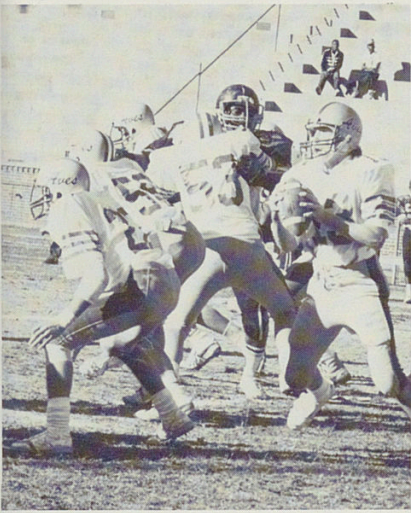

The Sycamore Aviator Reserve Football Team had a very successful season with a record of 6 wins and 3 losses giving the team a second place in the new Eastern Metro League. The Reserve Aves brought home victories Lakota, Greenhills, Walnut Hills, Anderson, Turpin and Glen Este. The potential of this team will definitely help next year's varsity team.

Coach Danehy said that the new league, the E.M.L., was considerably tougher than any of the competition that the girls had come up against in the past. The J.V. defense has been considered one of the best in the city. Besides the excellent defense, the girls showed talent in the positions of forward and halfback also. Although the girls did not finish with a fantastic record, they did have a beneficial learning experience.

But by far the team was most greatly aided by juniors Jamie Tate and John Paul, with Jamie Tate receiving All-EML honors.

The Girls had an excellent season with victories at the Sycamore Invitational and the Franklin Invitational. Junior Julie Hartsell and senior Nancy Donnelly were the teams mainstays with several 1st place finishes between them. Both were named All-EML, All-District, and All-Midwest. Without a doubt it was the best season ever for the Girls.

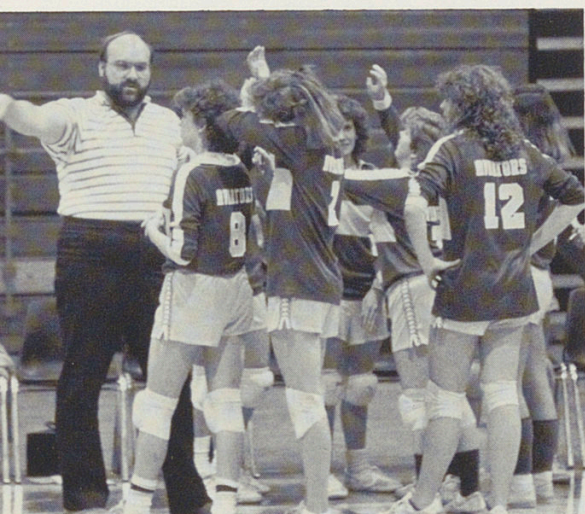

Golf

Unfortunately, the team is losing five of its top players this year. The graduating seniors will be John Hanley, Pete Geraci, Jeff Collins, David Sheets, and Sean Callan. Returning next year as lettermen will be Chris Gilmore, Todd Hardy, and Andy Lucas.

A victory at the state tournament over Princeton was thrill enough to last the entire year. This year's season was definitely a season of success for the Aves. A good job for the team they called "POLO 85". It doesn't get any better than this!

Finishing the season with a record of 7 wins and 7 losses, the team did not finish as well as they would have liked, but they certainly did a fine job in light of the increased competition found in the new league. One of the highlights of the season was the double-overtime win that the Aviators had over Moeller. In terms of individual accomplishments, the team was led by Chris Schneider and Steve Rahe, who along with Tim Cutter, Scott Ross, and Jason Housh, provided both offensive output and defensive tenacity.

The Lady Aves finished with an 11-11 record, certainly not what the team had hoped. But this season was highlighted by some thrilling victories against Forest Park and Talawanda. The game versus Talawanda was capped by a 27 point surge by the Lady Aves, a much better representation of their ability and determination than their record.

As a whole, the team expected to become a competitive team. In the end, they could see that they had become what they originally wanted to grow into. The team gave a solid performance in the EML and earned the respect of other coaches by being voted into the top ten. Overall it was an exciting season. A photograph of a brick building with a sidewalk and trees in the foreground. The building is made of light-colored bricks and has a flat roof. There are some trees and bushes in front of the building. The sidewalk is made of concrete slabs. The overall tone of the photograph is somewhat muted, with a slightly grainy texture.

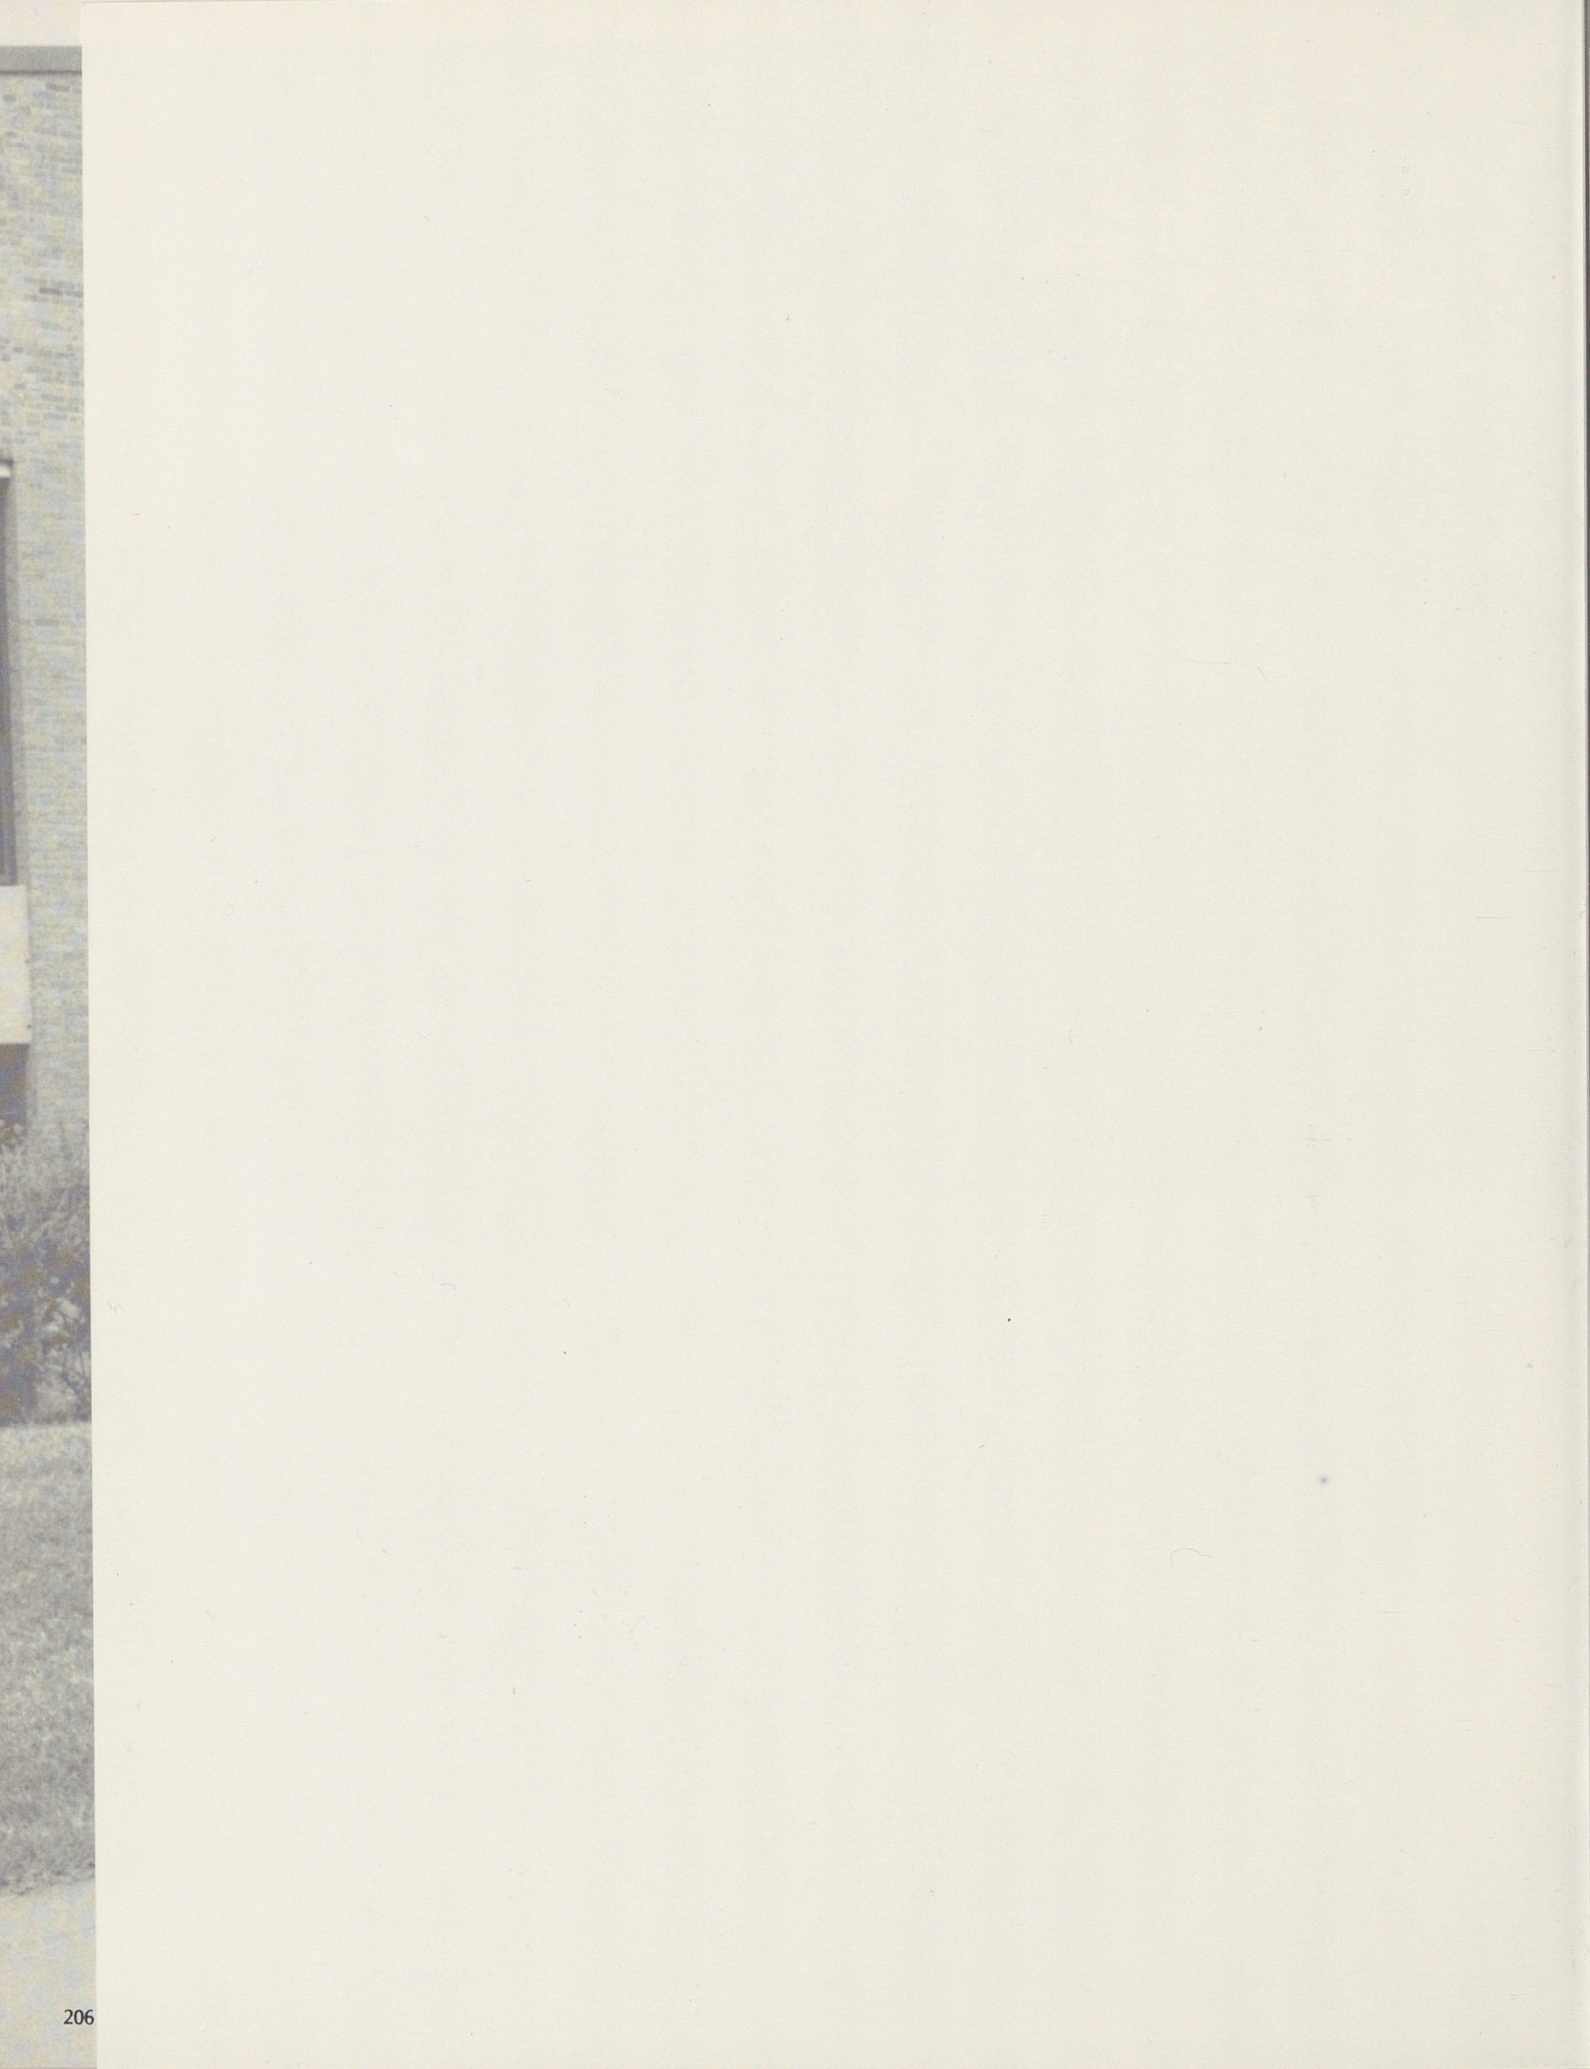

As the school year comes to an end, so does our job as editors. Putting together a yearbook is more than cropping pictures, drawing layouts, and writing copy. Our goal was to capture the essence of the senior year for the class of 1986 and the underclassmen. We hope we have illustrated the interaction between the classes, students, and faculty that make this year unique. We would like to thank all members of the staff who contributed their time and hard work. Those who deserve special thanks for their dedication are Mark Everson, Michael Gabor, Patti Plagens, Ranju Sangvai, and William Wang.

Sarah, Sarah, Sarah,

Oh, how I will miss our misadventures in Betsy's torture chamber. At least we got to mess around in Bal's class. I don't know what I'd do without you,
Sarah. English would be so boring without our bantering. Maybe we'll go to college together! Yeah! And maybe we'll be in the same class!
Yeah, that's the ticket! And we could talk! Yeah!

With Love to my accomplice
of class excitement.

Carl Hays

Sarah,

Wow! We're serious. Isn't it fun? Isn't anthropology fun? Isn't calculus more fun than trig? I'm getting carried away. It brightens my day to converse with you at lunch every day - you're a real inspiration (nobody ever writes that but it sounds good, doesn't it?). I've a nifty-keen senior year and live it up before they turn you loose on the world. Best of luck!

Flaethen

Sarah,
This seems
