DANCING ON THE CEILING. Shekar Jayaraman and Lauren Malone take time from their seventh bell world literature class to dance. Malone taught Jayaraman all the new dance moves along with the rest of the class. Although seniors are not required to enroll in a seventh bell some chose to, or their class schedule depended on it.

TOO TIRED TO CONCENTRATE. Jenna Markley takes a snooze during class. For some seniors school began to seem pointless after second semester and some chose to catch up on their rest rather than to participate. The main reason why seniors began to act this way was due to already being accepted to college and no second semester exams.

IT IS 7:20 MONDAY MORNING and guess where you can find most of the seniors...running in from the parking lot. After a long, eventful weekend, it was always hard for seniors to arrive to school on time, Elise Marrero tried to make it to class on time. For seniors it has always been a problem to make it to first bell on time.
