

1. Backstroke it is. Scott Keller, 11, is a returning member of the swim team. This is the third season Keller swam for varsity. Keller swims backstroke, and also freestyle, butterfly, and breaststroke.

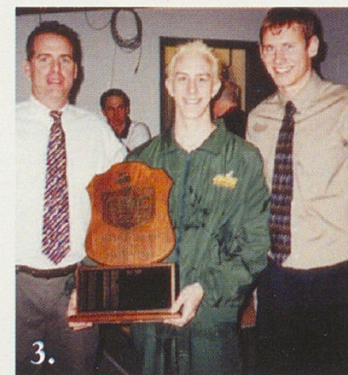

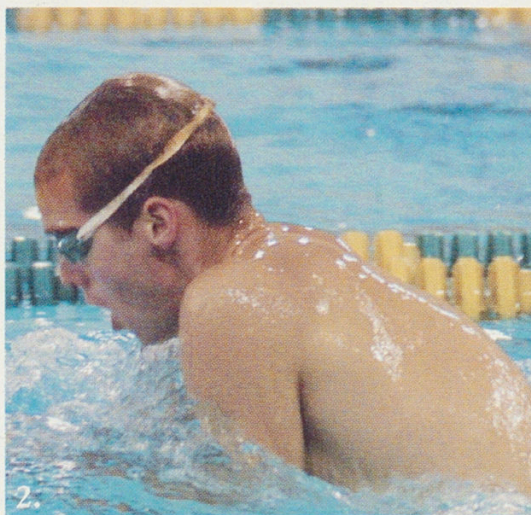

2. Dive away. Vince Ahn, 9, is a first year varsity swimmer. Ahn prepares to swim a 200 IM. He is regarded by his teammates as a dedicated swimmer.

3. Take your mark. Joey Krone, 11, prepares to dive off the block. He is a district qualifier for the second year in a row. Krone is also a second year member of the state relay representing the team.

1. Number One. Heath Tameris, 10, is named swimmer of the meet at GMC's. Tameris is picked as one of the top swimmers out of all the schools in the GMC. 2. Ready, Set, Go. Robert Truax, 11, is a returning member of the varsity team. Always demonstrating good team sportsmanship, Truax is committed to practicing and the team overall. Swimming freestyle is not the only stroke he is skilled in, but also breaststroke and backstroke. 3. Trophies. Ryan Klasmeier, 12, accepts the GMC trophy for the team. The team wins the GMC's, up against many competitive teams. This is the last high school season for Klasmeier, and it is made memorable. Klasmeier is one of four recipients of a scholarship awarded by the Friends of the Classic. Klasmeier will be swimming for Wright State in the fall of 2003.

"It's always our goal to qualify as many swimmers to state as possible. Looking at the season so far, I think we have a good chance at achieving this,"
Coach Mark Sullivan
