

Stopping the puck. John Herrick, 9, played as one of the two goalies on the team. His peak performance was in the last tournament of the season, where he participated in every game of the weekend. As it was John's second year playing hockey, he had the experience and talent needed to provide great support in the net for the rest of his team.

1. Bring it in. The team takes a breather and gets ready for the next period. With the coaches' words of encouragement and a pat on the back, the boys are determined to do their best.

1. I'm open! Chris Luken, 9, calls for the puck. Merely a freshman, Luken made a total of 6 goals and became an early, energetic leader.

3. Make a break for it! Phil Barbe, 11, races for the goal.

How to end the season right. Going into their last game of the season, the boys were anxious and optimistic for a win. The Ohio Junior Varsity Tournament took place over one weekend at the Cincinnati Gardens. Their first three games were losses, but on the fourth game the boys were prepared for a win. Going in to the last game of the season, there was no way they were going to lose. "The win against Centerville was an awesome way to finish off the exciting season. Everyone played awesome; Stetcz had two amazing goals that really helped us win," said John Herrick, 9.

4. Guarding the net. While most of the guys focused on getting the puck into the net, goalie Kyle Esterkamp, 9, did his best to keep it out.

5. Fighting for the puck. Matt Cadwallader, 9, attempts to gain control from the other team.

6. I've got it! Paul Procario, 9, struggles to gain control, while Derrick Bahler, 9, awaits the pass. Procario served as the team captain.

7. Be Aggressive, B-E aggressive. Jeremy Zola, 9, played the roll of the aggressor on the team; He was always able to keep the other team out of his zone.
