

1. A little team work gets the job done! Tom Booms, 12, and Mike Kelly, 11, guard the goal from a shot. Both guys played excellent defense throughout the season and learned that it's always important to protect your goal no matter what. 2. Man-up! Dan Parsons, 12, waits for a pass. When the other team gets a penalty, that would be called "Man-up" because we have one more player than the other team and when our team gets a penalty it's called "Man-down" because we have one less player than the other team.

"Lacrosse is a lot of hard work, but winning the games makes all that practice worth it," Brad Bartels, II.

"One of the best games I ever witnessed was the game against St. Xavier. Winning in double overtime is something worth remembering," Danny Holian, 12.

1. Keep it out of the goal! Goalie, Chris Parker, 12, defends the goal throughout the games. To keep from getting stung by the ball and to keep out the cold, a lot of times he wore green sweat pants. 2. A little out numbered? Todd Roppa, 12, tries to escape the boys of Dublin Kaufman. Although he managed to help out his team, Sycamore still lost the game. 3. Band of Brothers! The boys conference during a quick second half time-out. Everyone's a little stressed out at the end of a close game.
