

Wittman

Q. What's the worst excuse you've gotten for late homework?

A. TRUE excuse from a student- I couldn't read last night because my friend's car burnt up and my book was in it.

Laughing at the expense of Dr. Kelley, Arion Lanalong, 10 made a mess of the principal. Celebrating March 3, Pie Day, teachers involved themselves in some math in their face. At every lunch that day, a teacher enjoyed this occasion.

Making plans for a class debate, Ms. Courtney Gelter, told the rules and requirements to the class. Mixing up the days of note and test taking with a spice of group interaction was just what they needed.

"I take very seriously my obligation to make class material engaging and as relavent as possible to my scholars."
Mr. Tom Gaffigan

Teachers just want to have fun, in and outside of class. By doing other activities outside of the text book, class was made entertaining and educational. Each department added their own flare to spice up class. The most common excitement for classes, was the field trips to interesting places in the community. The physics department for example, traveled to Paramount's Kings Island for a day of fun and learning as their fourth quarter project. By the addition of field trips and exciting activities, more students involved themselves in the classes that participated in such things. With so much in each department, what will these teachers think of next?

Mr. Jim Tinsley, English
Mrs. Lynn Toney, Spec. Needs
Mr. John Traub, E.A.
Ms. Mary Tuke, Para.
Mrs. Jen Ulland, Math
Ms. Lisa Vanags, Global
Ms. Diane Varin, Nutrition
Mr. Michael Veraldo, Global
Mr. Joe Villari, Soc. Studies
Mrs. Maria Vincent, Prof. Math
Mrs. Ginny Warzon, Career Center
Ms. Dottie Wasem, Spec. Needs
Ms. Gretchen Washington, Spec. Needs
Ms. Pat Weitzel, E.A.
Mrs. Robin Wells-Kamp, Guidance
Mr. Bud Wendell, Science
Mrs. Helen White, Printroom
Mr. Dan Willen, Trainer
Mr. Eric Wise, Soc. Studies
Ms. JoAnne Witt, Sup. St.
Mr. Kevin Wittman, Soc. Studies

Mr. Tim Wolfe, Soc. Studies
Mrs. Melissa Wolfe-Izworski, English
Ms. Phyllis Wylds, Nutrition