

"Halloween was a lot of fun. I think it made it better that only seniors got to dress-up because it gave you something to look forward to," Brynn Hohlbein

SENIORS LEARNING IN DISGUISE

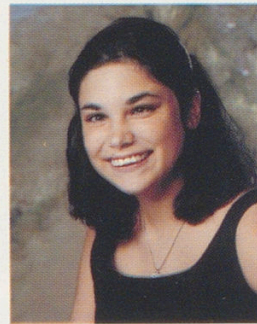

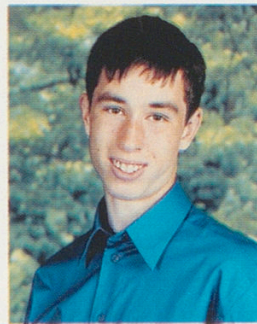

Who you gonna call? Ghostbusters, Scott Kane, Mike Roesch, Scott Rooks, Shaun Fitzgibbons, and Alex Moore were ready to help this day be a memorable one. They walked around to their classes squirting their classmates, making a lot of noise, and talking to each other on walky-talkies.

James Chung
Mark Cimiluca
Barbara Clark
Barry Clark
Ellen Cole

Jennifer Collins
Stephen Collins
Angela Cornejo
Kaleigh Coughlin
Nicole Cribbin

The Winners Circle

Some of the winners included:

Best Individual - Kelly O'Neal - Beat-up Grandma

Cutest Costume - Ben Scheier - Spongebob Squarepants

Best Male Group - Shaun Fitzgibbons, Mike Roesch, Scott Rooks, Alex Moore, and Scott Kane - Ghostbusters

Best Group - Ward Bushee, Roger Franklin, Derek Snyder, Richard Beasley, Samer Sama'an-Monte Python

Scariest Group- Christina Stowell, Nicole Kenney, Tina Fleming, Tracy Hodgson, and Kirsten Roberts-Nascar Fans

Most Creative- Naomi Karp, Shauna Bracher, Tori Roth, Nikki Thompson-Fishing Boat

Best Impersonation- Ross Sferra and Phil Present-Athletic Trainers

Scariest Individual- Andrew Wislocki-Monster

Snap Crackle Pop! Sara Lesan, Brittany Bagent, and Karen Bennett dressed up as the characters from the highly-popular cereal Rice Krispies. These girls looked great by themselves, but looked the best when the three of them were together. They put their costumes together without having to spend a lot of money.

Ladies, please start your engines. Kirsten Roberts, Tina Fleming, Tracy Hodgson, Christina Stowell, and Nicole Kenney were sporting the Nascar look for Halloween. They were decked out in gear such as hats, cutoffs, vests, Nascar seat cushions, drink holders and fanny-packs. The girls grabbed a lot of attention.