1. Boys and their cars, Kevin Fox, Andy Mueller, and Mike Roesch, pass the night away by driving. There were many other games, but the majority of the boys were found by the cars.

3. Mesmerized by the action on screen, Matt Herrick, Andrea Borchers, Marc Sherman practice their aim on a police chase game. This game was a popular one that tested the students aim, quickness, and hand-eye coordination.

2. Ballin' on and off the court, Stephen Bortz, and Evan Pierson, shot hoops to show off their skill. The rotating basketball hoop made for a bit of a challenge, but it was no problem for these boys.

4. Giggling with giddiness, Blair Kuresman, 12, held on to the "Scream Machine", while friend Anne Willis, watched from the side with anxiousness. "The 'Scream Machine' was so funny! It was cool to even see the guys flinch," said Willis.

HUGE Senior Bash!

"It was fun, you can't go wrong with free food, drinks, and games," Kyle Rogers.
