Spring break? Zach Fox opted for a completely different experience than many. He put up with the blowing wind and snow to ski in Salt Lake City, Utah. While many awaited beaches and tropical sun, Fox anticipated his break of snow, a gorgeous lake, and unbelievable slopes. The difficulty of the mountains out west is a huge difference from Perfect North slopes. Above, Fox is zooming down the mountain on his parabolic ski's. He is geared up with the perfect equipment for the cold weather.

Tropical Paradise. After a day of laying out and strolling in the ocean, Daniel Hiudt, Whitney Potts Schmidt, Ricky Shereen, Heather Brill, and Sonny Wolfe take a quick break from the nonstop action in Punta Cana, Dominican Republic. Picture taking was one of the ways this group could remember one of their most memorable vacations, along with souvenir buying and coming home with a great tan.

The real Cancun. Andy Thomas, Ben O'Brien, Danny Unger, and Phil Present experienced the infamous, crazy city for themselves. Cancun attracts a huge number of spring breakers that it has been built up to be one of the best places to spend vacation. By day the guys would hang out on the beach, and at night they mingled at local dance clubs and had an unforgettable time.

Kiss for the road. Kerry Rockwood and Brittany Bagent traveled to Hilton Head, South Carolina for their break. Having locked the keys in their car the girls decided to show their appreciation to the local officer. We be clubbin'. Hot night spots were often the main attraction to spring breakers. Ashley Butler, Tracy Hodgson, Amy Harris, Krista Whalen, Brynn Hohlbein, Meghan Mueller, Lisa Watkins, Natalie Earls, Jennifer Sosna, Geoff Schwartz, and Simon Turnheim, all enjoyed each others company in the Dominican Republic. Traveling with such a large group of friends made the trip that much more fun. Night time was the time when the group was able to meet friends from other cities, dance, legally gamble, and experience some of the tropical culture.
