

A. C. BACHMEYER, M. D.
Dean of the College of Medicine

The College of Medicine has endeavored to furnish you with the tools of learning and to imbue you with the true scientific spirit so that through experience and further study you may become reliable and effective physicians.

The everchanging conditions in our profession demand that we keep our minds active, receptive and pliable so that we may readily adjust our practice as new truths become evident.

The initial phase of your professional life has drawn to a close. May the memories of this interesting period always be with you to encourage and stimulate you in your work.

It is the wish and hope of the Faculty that you may develop useful and therefore successful careers.
