

To old McMicken, each year, when the autumn leaves begin to fall, we welcome many newcomers among our college mates, who come, thirsting for knowledge, and intent upon the pursuit of happiness.

"THE DORM COMES TO LIFE"

"CHIEF MOORE'S AUTO LAUNDRY"

The stern Vigilantes, ferreting out the younger members of our great University circle, know that only by means of severe discipline and actual manual labor can true education be attained. Consequently, the cars of many prominent campus people permanently lose that school-girl complexion.

Then comes a day when the Council of Six, in solemn array and in serious purpose, temporarily becomes a criminal court of high justice, to try and to pronounce justice upon the cases of malicious co-frosh offenders.

"IN THE NAME OF THE LAW"