WE'RE at the Freshman Reception. Who? Everybody --- freshmen, sophomores, juniors, seniors --- even the faculty. The lights are dim, but not too dim to hide the bold colors --- green and white --- of the still bolder class of '33.

Now a frosh goes dashing after the hauty senior, and what's more she likes it. Does he?

In spite of the confusion and the blare of the orchestra, the freshmen receive their first thrill of a U. C. dance. They have been initiated into the whirl of social life on their campus.
