Lieut. H. D. Wade
Lieut. V. E. Curran

Capt. R. C. Hood
Capt. A. T. Auburn
Maj. E. Gorsuch

ONCE again the armed forces invade the gym. Fair ladies accompany them. The ball is on. Now the honorary cadet colonel approaches and admirers bow before her.

Dancing, music, bright lights, blazing color, khaki uniforms mingled with lovely feminine evening clothes, and at last appears the shining arch of crossed sabres; the formal summons of the Scabbard and Blade. January 31 --- why the Military Ball, of course.
