

Beyond good and evil

So THE CINCINNATIAN, ever the adherent and preserver of tradition, views with deep-felt concern the lily-like gestures of present-day pants-warmers in educating freshmen. For itself, THE CINCINNATIAN admirably takes care of those within its jurisdiction, as the picture indicates.

Alma Kothe, the office wise-brat and runner-up in the mustache contest, pestered us until the following was added: "What this school needs is not bigger and better paddling but bigger and better parking places."

The Vigilant Will Get You If You Don't Watch Out

None of the immortals ever felt as superior as does J. Quintius (Artie) Sohn seen in the picture with the exquisite Dottie Hoffman, sophisticate par-excellence. Although her boy friends are legion, Artie likes to be seen with her, he says. She arouses people's curiosity. So does he.

We don't know what the team of Hoffman and Sohn has to do with Vigilant Activities, but such a combination of people seen strolling about the campus cannot go unnoticed. "Such popularity must be deserved."
