The Bearcats Score

Goldie comes through

In the Buckeye Conference tilt with Denison, Cincinnati accomplished what had come to be popularly regarded on the campus as practically impossible—the defeat of the Baptists. Moreover, the Bearcats left no doubt as to their superiority, and although the score was close, the Bearcats outplayed Denison for the greater part of the game. Before a huge Homecoming Day crowd, among whom were some of those old warriors who had played on that Cincinnati team which, fifteen years ago, last defeated Denison, the Red and Black team crashed through the Granville eleven for two touchdowns, the first Buckeye win ever recorded by a Bearcat football team, and a glorious victory.

In the first quarter the fans witnessed the usual punting duel, and saw Goldmeyer outkick every punter Denison used. Cincinnati threatened to score twice, but penalties at inopportune times wrecked both chances. Denison could do nothing whatever offensively, and resorted entirely to punting and defensive tactics. To those in the stands, the big question was as to when Cincinnati would score.

In the second quarter one march of four yards by the Bearcats was stopped on the Big Reds' six-yard line. Denison punted out, but the Bearcats were not to be denied, and after two attempts at the line had failed, "Si" Sidinger shot one of his bullet passes to Lunsford who carried the oval to Denison's eleven yard marker. The touchdown was made by Ed Sidinger after the other backs had smashed their way to the Baptist two-yard line.

The Bearcats were not content with this taste of blood however, and shortly after the kickoff they forced the Denisonians backwards through sheer superiority in kicking. After a Denison punt, with the half almost over, "Si" Sidinger fooled the Denison defense with a quick kick which sailed far over the safety's head and was downed by Grawe on the Red's one-foot line. Then big Art Hallett smashed through the Baptist line, completely smothered the attempt to punt, and Metz fell on the ball for a second touchdown.

Denison came back with renewed fight in the second half and, using a short pass with good effect, threatened Cincy's goal line several times and finally succeeded in scoring through the unexpected use of a long pass over the goal line. At this juncture Cincinnati tightened up, and for the balance of the game the Bearcats retained possession of the ball. In the final five minutes a fumbled punt gave the Baptists the ball, and aided by some very doubtful decisions on "interference" with Denison receivers of forward passes, the Big Reds carried the ball to Cincinnati's eleven-yard line. The Bearcats held at this point, and the game ended immediately after.

It would be a difficult task to select one outstanding man for Cincinnati, Goldmeyer and Si Sidinger played superlative ball in the backfield, while the entire Cincy line shone. Lunsford at end electrified the fans by his "circus" catches of forward passes. In general, the entire team formed a unit which gave to Varsity a smashing triumph over the now defunct Denison jinx.
