

New Beta House

Completely altered and remodeled, the old house of the Cincinnati Chapter of Beta Theta Pi was transformed into a modern glory barn into which the local Betas carted their trappings and accoutrements during November, 1930 for a continued residence. The new house, beautiful, spacious and modern, is one of the finest and most comfortable fraternity homes in this part of the country.

Dedication of the structure took place at a celebration which brought to Cincinnati the national officers of the fraternity and many former members of the chapter. The three day program included numerous events, from banquets to dances. The house is to be formally opened for inspection in February.

Something more gone

Deep in the midst of Opprobrium we sit. We look around us for something that we can call our own. No! Nothing not even an old worn-out tooth brush. Once thousands of tiny vestiges made known to us that we were alive—that we were unapproachably masculine—that at least we had our pipes and our Granger Rough Cut which the eternal feminine could not wrest from us. But even now the Mummer's office is peopled with the bold females who swipe our ties, our shoes, our pipes. Who gives a particular damn anyway?
