Through the gloom of the season, three games stood out as beacons for Cincinnati fandom. The first of these was the Buckeye opened with Denison. The Baptists invaded Cincinnati heavy favorites, and even Cincinnati fans expected a continuation of Varsity's six game losing streak. The game upset the dope bucket all over Burnet Woods, however, for the Bearcats took command of the situation at the start and were never headed. They presented a well-nigh impregnable defense, holding Scott, Denison's dangerous center, to three free throws during the entire game. Denison scored only four times from the floor, and only one of these was a "bunny." Nelson and Shuck led Cincinnati on the offense with thirteen points between them. By winning this game, Cincinnati upset the team which had been conceded title favorites in the Buckeye pennant race.

In the Miami-Cincinnati fracas at Oxford, Cincinnati emerged on top after a stiff battle, 24-18. The foe got away in front and counted seven points before the Bearcats scored. After they got started, the local hoopsters played a nice steady game to tie the count at eleven all at the half.

The second half was a nip-and-tuck affair, but the Bearcats pulled ahead in the last two minutes to win out. Kisker, Shuck and Johnson starred for Cincinnati. Although the game was in no sense spectacular, it delighted Cincinnati fans for the mere reason that it was a victory over the ancient and honored rival from up-state.
