U. C. 7 — Ohio U. 13

Yes, sir, U. C. held the Championship Ohio University Bobcats 13 to 7 and came so close to defeating them that the Champions had their first scare of their three-year supremacy of Ohio football. The Red and Black out-played, out-ran, and out-scored the Athens aggregation during the entire first half. In the first few minutes of the game, Goldmeyer crossed up the Bobcat defense by passing to Stark from his own fifteen yard stripe who wormed, slipped and stumbled his way to the Ohio ten yard line where he was tackled from behind. Two thrusts at the line proved futile and after a fifteen yard penalty for holding, the Bearcats lost this first opportunity to score.

The Bobcats then started up their attack but were slowed down as Smith intercepted Kepler's pass on Cincinnati's forty-one yard marker. Sidinger's pass was taken by Lunsford and was good for twenty-five yards. The Bearcats lost ground on the next two plays but a long pass from Sidinger to Williams for a touchdown put the Homecoming Crowd in a frenzie. Metz promptly kicked the extra point to put U. C. ahead by seven points.

Ohio U. started their famous machine clicking and began a drive down the field that ended in Sadosky plunging over the goal from the one yard line. The Bearcats rushed Gabriel and his kick went wide, leaving Cincinnati in the lead by one point.

In the second half, the Bobcats opened up with their lateral passes which gained many yards and a touchdown for them. This time Gabriel's point was good, putting the Champions six points ahead.

There was no more scoring although each team threatened. A surprise play, a pass from Goldmeyer behind the end zone was taken by Stark and came so unexpectedly that he almost broke away for a touchdown.

The entire Cincinnati team starred with Goldmeyer, Stark and Williams standing out in the backfield and Smith, Metz and Lunsford on the line.

To a man, all hailed Coach Dana King's Bearcats as just what the doctor prescribed for U. C. football.
