

November 7, 1931

LINE-UP AND SCORE

U. C.		Denison
Lunsford	L.E.	Rupe
Ruck	L.T.	Shepard
Lewis	L.G.	Hauser
Smith (C.)	C.	Wart
Parker	R.G.	Henry
Craig	R.T.	Border
Metz	R.E.	Hutchinson
Goldmeyer	O.B.	McConnell
Sidinger	L.H.	Gabele
Smith (E.)	R.H.	White
Gilliland	F.B.	Walker

Score by Periods:		1	2	3	4
U. C.		0	7	13	33
Denison		0	0	0	0

Touchdowns—Gilliland 3, Goldmeyer, Sidinger.

Points after Touchdowns—Metz, Ruck 2.

Substitutions — Anderson, Ballman, Bartlett, Brown, Davis, Fitzgerald, Heil, Herman, Hutchinson, Kaemmerle, Kappas, Lloyd, Miltz, Pater, Patten, Ressler, Schneider, Schwab, Slaughter, Speer, Stark, Strothman, Van Winkle, Wyatt.

Steve — End

Williams — Halfback

U. C. 33 — Denison 0

The last vestige of a traditional Denison jinx was discarded forever (we hope), when the Bearcats smothered the Moundbuilders by the overwhelming score of 33 to 0 on the loser's own field.

A fighting Bearcat line was aided in their work by three superlative ball carriers in the persons of Bill Gilliland, Ed. Sidinger, and Cliff Goldmeyer. Gilliland alone accounted for three of the touchdowns and was the satellite of the Red and Black offense.

On the line mention must be given to Chet Smith at center, the two tackles, Ruck and Herman, and Parker and Lewis at guard; they all showed a charging and blocking game that was largely accountable for the Bearcat victory.

The first score came in the second quarter when Gilliland hit center for six yards and a touchdown. Ruck made the extra point. Gilliland made two more touchdowns in the third quarter, one a brilliant run through center for sixty yards and a score. Ruck again added the extra point.

In the last period Goldmeyer intercepted a Denison pass on the Moundbuilder's twenty-five yard line and trotted over the goal for the fourth touchdown.

A host of Cincinnati substitutes, put into the game after the fourth touchdown, continued the tallying when Slaughter, Bearcat end, intercepted a Denison pass, and in three plays Sidinger took the pigskin over from the twenty yard line for the last score.

Denison Gains Around End