

Junior Prom

The Junior Prom was held in the beautiful ballroom of the Hotel Gibson on the night of Saturday, March 12. Over five hundred people joined in the procession of the Grand March and received a souvenir program which will be long kept and treasured in memory of the outstanding event of 1932.

The music was furnished by none other than Henry Thies and his Orchestra, assisted by Charles Dameron, tenor. This group is well known to the music-loving public because of its long engagement at the Nation's Station, WLW. The orchestra was acclaimed by many as one of the best ever featured at a Junior Prom.

Near the zero hour of midnight, the lights were dimmed and all attention was focused on the stage. The time had arrived for the presentation of the Junior Prom Queen. Dean Hewitt stepped from behind the curtains and began a most able introduction. After the audience had been kept in suspense for at least ten minutes, the curtains were drawn and the Queen of the 1932 Junior Prom was no longer a secret. Miss Ruth Al-

Ruth Allonier
Prom Queen

lonier, the lucky contestant, fully looked the part of a Queen and she was then presented with a handsome trophy in honor of the occasion. Charles Dameron brought the proceedings to a close by singing "You're My Everything," while the newly-throned stood by and blushed just as though she were really embarrassed. Another victory for the Kappas, and a wonderful party for all.

The Prom