

Sophos Beacons at the Charity Ball

Sophos Charity Ball

A blaze of lights, two orchestras alternating soft waltzes with fast fox trots, gala evening gowns against the sombre black and white of the men's attire, "smiling faces" and a light atmosphere are descriptive of the scene at the Hall of Mirrors Saturday evening, Feb. 27, when University faculty members, students, and alumni, mingled at the Charity Ball.

The hall was crowded to capacity during the entire evening and various fraternities and sororities congregated at their respective tables. Specialty entertainers and a diversified program added to the merriment of the occasion. Many prominent Cincinnatians stopped in for several dances, adding a note of city interest to a University function.

Sophos Pledges

The preeminent feature of the evening was the pledging of the newly elected members of Sophos, honorary sophomore fraternity. Filing into the hall with great solemnity, and wearing the traditional black masks, Sophos summoned the neophytes.

Those called to membership in this organization were Ralph Panzer, Richard Uible, Bob Hoefer, Bill Finley, Bill O'Neil.

Homer Van Atta, Ray Hilton, Ed Hessel, John Finlay, Harry Hinds, George Sistrunk, Bob Butler, Paul Brentson, Chester Mueller, Richard Bauer, Wayne Rich, Harry Groebarr, Bill Franklin and Bob Gruen,

Three honorary members were also selected because of their outstanding service to the University: A. C. Moorehaus, A. S. Reichman and Mayo Hoffman.
