The Co-op Club membership embraces all co-operative male students in the College of Engineering and Commerce. The object of the organization is to promote better fellowship among its members through social events given during the year. At meetings held on the third Tuesday in each Section speakers, entertainment, and refreshments are provided. The Co-op Dance in December is the high light in social events of the year for the Engineers. A stag in spring climaxes the activities of the Club for the year.
