It is the purpose of the Deutscher Verein to unite socially those students who feel an active interest in the German language and customs. The club is doing much to promote among the undergraduates of the University an appreciation of the cultural achievements of Germany. Programmes are presented monthly which include many phases of German life. Music is always an important factor at every meeting.

It has been the tradition of the Deutscher Verein to present plays annually. In 1929-30 Lessing's "Minna von Barnhelm" was presented, while in 1930-31 the production was "Jugendfreunde" by Fulda. Since 1932 is the centenary of Goethe's death and the year is known as the "Goethe-year," the Deutscher Verein will observe this anniversary in a befitting manner.
