

Nineteen-Thirty-Two

College colloquy . . . the stag row discusses the merits of the fair sex . . . Does their observation ne'er end. Summer is here in all its glory . . . And May casts its magnetic spell over all . . . Some leave for one o'clocks, others for the cooling breezes of the open highways . . . A set of tennis . . . a round of golf . . . the group may go . . . college life and its unending interest, never . . .

May

